VOLUME LXXXIV. PITTSBURGH, FRIDAY, APRIL 2, 1869. NUMBER 81.

FIRST EDITION.

TWELVE O'CLOCK M.

HARRISBURG.

Proceedings of the Legislature—Senate Considering the General Appropriation Bill—Free Pipe and Tank Bill Recalled by the House and Indefinately Postponed.

(By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.)

HARRISBURG, April 1, 1869.

SENATE.

APPROPRIATION BILL.

The appropriation bill was still under consideration, on second reading.

Three hundred dollars to each Commissioner of the Sinking Fund was struck out.

Mr. ERRETT moved to strike out two thousand dollars salary to the State Historian, and two clerks at fourteen hundred dollars each. Agreed to.

At the evening session the Appropriation bill continued on second reading.

A motion of Mr. OSTERHAUT, to reduce members' salaries from $1,000 to $700, was rejected.

Mr. LOWRY'S amendment, paying three dollars a day for actual service of members, was also rejected.

Mr. WHITE'S amendment, to strike out allowance for stationery, was rejected.

Mr. OSTERHAUT offered an amendment giving two hundred dollars extra pay to the Transcribing Clerks. Rejected.

An amendment striking out the Governor's piano was rejected.

Mr. BILLINGFELT'S amendment abolishing the franking privilege passed.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

The Philadelphia Sheep Brokers' bill passed finally.

Mr. ADAIRE moved a reconsideration of the bill passed yesterday relative to suits brought against Pennsylvanians by non-residents. Disagreed to.

PROPERTY EXEMPTION.

The bill increasing the exemption of property of persons maintaining families from three to five hundred dollars, and nullifying all waivers of its provisions, passed finally.

FREE PIPE BILL.

The bill known as the Free Pipe and Tank law, extending the general mining, manufacturing and quarrying act of 1863, and its supplements, to oil operations in Venango, Warren, Forrest and Crawford counties, having been recalled from the Senate by Mr. DAVIS, of Philadelphia, he moved a reconsideration for the purpose of killing it.

The SPEAKER decided that six days having elapsed since the passage by House, the motion for reconsideration was now out of order.

Mr. DAVIS then moved the indefinite postponement.

This was opposed by Mr. DUNCAN, of Venango, and Mr. CLARK, of Warren, who alleged that the present bill was sustained by the oil men, and that the Western Pipe bill was universally condemned.

Mr. AMES, of Crawford, who originated the Western pipe bill, favored the indefinite postponement of the present bill.

M. WILSON, of Allegheny, said the Western pipe bill was more unpopular to the business men of Allegheny than any other measure passed. It was obnoxious, and the present bill should be passed, in justice to the people and the oil interests.

Mr. Davis' motion to indefinitely postpone was adopted—yeas 41, nays 30.

GOOD FRIDAY.

Mr. CLARK, of Philadelphia, called up the Senate bill making Good Friday a public holiday. Passed finally.

GAME LAW.

Evening Session—The bill from the Senate regulating the taking of game, was warmly advocated by Mr. MORGAN, of Allegheny, and pending the question the House adjourned.

NEW YORK CITY.

(By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.)

NEW YORK, April 1, 1869.

The Union Pacific Railroad has commenced suit in the United States Circuit Court against James Fisk, Jr., for trespass, in taking possession of the office and property of the Company, and otherwise prejudicing its affairs. One million of dollars damages is claimed. It is rumored that other suits will be brought against Fisk and his agents. The cases of Fisk vs. the Road, in the Supreme Court and United States Circuit Court, were continued to-day without result.

Assesor Webster has commenced action against members of the firm of Clark, Dodge & Co., to recover penalties for refusal to make returns and payments required by the Internal Revenue law. This will bring up the question of the liability of bankers and brokers under the law.

The Emigrant clipper ship Baltic, was seized by the United States Marshal for a violation of the passenger act, under a penalty of $160,000. She was about to sail for Liverpool, and not giving bonds for that amount, was not permitted to proceed.

Illinois Legislature.

(By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.)

CHICAGO, April 1.—Governor Palmer has completed the work of examining all the bills passed at the recent session of the Illinois legislature, about two thousand in all. He has laid aside one hundred and eight of them without his approval most of which he will veto outright when the legislature reassembles, and the rest he will return for correction. Among the important bills which will be vetoed are the Chicago Lake Front bill, which gives to the Illinois Central, the Michigan Central, and the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy railroads three blocks of what is known as "Lake Park," and to the Illinois Central alone all of Chicago harbor south of the Chicago river, and the bill authorizing the counties and towns of the State to pay all their railroad debts in existence, and which may be created for the next ten years, out of the excess of State taxes assessed and collected in excess of those of 1868.

BRIEF TELEGRAMS.

—General Sheridan will leave St. Louis for Chicago to-day.

—The ice blockade in the Hudson river has broken and navigation is open.

—The freshet in the Hudson is rapidly subsiding, and no more serious damage will occur.

—The Mississippi river is open up to Reed's landing, except a gorge just above LaCrosse.

—Hon. Horatio Seymour is still at Keokuk, Iowa, laid up by the injuries he recently received the railroad disaster near Peoria.

—The Galena (Illinois) Gazette says Hon. E. B. Washburne will leave there for Washington on the 15th instant, and thence for France on the 1st of May.

—The boiler of Kloe's steam mill, at St. Francis River, near Sanke Rapids, Minn., exploded on Tuesday, wounding seven men, two of them mortally.

—Orders have been received discontinuing the military post at Memphis, Tennessee. The troops will be transferred to Atlanta, Ga., much to the regret of the citizens.

—In Chicago, during Wednesday night, William Anderson, while intoxicated, fell with his head over the curbing of a sidewalk and broke his neck. When discovered he was dead.

—The DeSoto House at LaCrosse, Wis., was burned on Wednesday night. Loss not known. One or two other fires occurred the same night, supposed to be the work of incendiaries.

—Dwight Durkee has declined the position of Controller on the Radical ticket in St. Louis, and Stephen B. Barrow, another old and prominent citizen, has been appointed by the County Committee in his stead.

—At Cincinnati, O., the jury in the case of Stapleton, indicted for murder in the first degree, after being out twenty-three hours, brought in a verdict of "manslaughter." The defense moved for a new trial.

—The Kankakee Gazette says the typhoid and scarlet fevers are very prevalent in Menomee and vicinity, the latter resulting in the death death of a good many children, sometimes numbering from three to four a day.

—Thomas C. Bowie, belonging to the engineer corps of the North Missouri Railroad, fell into a cellar at Kansas City a few nights ago and broke his neck. He was a nephew of Hon. Reverdy Johnson, and also of the present Governor of Maryland.

—A novel tournament is to come off in Chicago, some time in May. The Chicago Butchers Society offer a solid silver belt, with a buckle of solid gold, to the butcher who can kill and dress an ox in the shortest time. The belt is a very handsome one, costing $500.

A dispatch states the fiendish spirit of the Ku-Klux-Klan, at Greenville, Alabama, culminated a few days since in an attempt to murder S. S. Gardner, of the Probate Court of Butler county. He was shot by a skulking assassin while sitting near an open window. His wound, it is thought, may prove fatal.

—One hundred homeless children were sent West on Wednesday by the Children's Aid Society of New York, this large shipment being mostly due to the generosity of a wealthy and charitable lady, who celebrated the twenty-first birthday of her only son by presenting to the Society one thousand five hundred dollars, to be expended in charity.

—The new Galt House at Louisville, Ky., erected and furnished at a cost of over one million of dollars, will be thrown open for the accommodation of guests on Monday, the 5th inst. It is pronounced the largest hotel in the West or South, and in point of elegance and finish will probably surpass any similar establishment on this continent.

—The Illinois Press Association will hold its annual Convention at Cairo on the 21st inst. The annual address will be delivered by Dr. C. H. Ray, of Chicago, and the poem by W. H. Bristol, of the Kankakee Gazette. After the adjournment of the Convention its members will take an excursion to Mobile, by invitation of the Ohio and Mobile Railroad Company. The courtesies of the Mobile Road extends to one lady for every gentleman.

[FIRST SESSION.]

SENATE: American Citizens in Cuba Outraged—Political Disabilities—Bills and Resolutions Reported—Indian Appropriations. HOUSE: Tariff Laws, Custom Houses and Bonded Warehouses — Bill Providing Provisional Government for Mississippi Postponed Until December—The Covode-Foster Contested Election.

(By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.)

WASHINGTON, April 1, 1869.

SENATE.

Mr. SUMNER presented a memorial of Joseph N. Casavo, citizen of the United States, setting forth the indignities put on himself and brother at the hands of the Spanish Government in Cuba, and asking the interposition of the United States Government in their behalf. Referred to Committee on Foreign Affairs.

Mr. HAMLIN, from Committee on Political Disabilities, reported a joint resolution requiring every person petitioning for removal of their political disabilities to accompany his petition with a sworn statement, over his own signature, of the ground upon which he asks relief. Passed.

Mr. SUMNER, from the Committee on Foreign Relations, reported and recommended the passage of a bill to facilitate telegraphic communication between Europe and the United States; also, favorably, from the same Committee, a bill, accompanied by a report, to refund to the States of Massachusetts and Maine interest paid by them on advances made for the United States in the war of 1812.

From the Committee on Indian Affairs, a joint resolution authorizing the Commissioner of Indian Affairs to appoint guardians for minor Indian children entitled to pensions or bounties. Passed.

Mr. WILSON, from the Committee on Military, reported favorably the joint resolution directing the sale of Bergen Heights Arsenal.

Mr. GRIMES, from Committee on Naval Affairs, reported, with amendment, the bill to establish the office of Solicitor and Naval Judge Advocate.

Mr. POMEROY, from Committee on Public Lands, reported, with amendments, the bill granting lands to the State of Minnesota to aid in the construction of a railroad from Lake Superior to Vermillion Lake.

Mr. OSBORN introduced a bill to secure the completion of the Washington and Lincoln Monument. Referred to to Committee on Public Building and Grounds.

Mr. HARLAN introduced a bill to provide for the exemplification of public records. Referred to Judiciary Committee.

Mr. RAMSEY, from Committee on Post Offices and Post Roads, reported a joint resolution authorizing the construction of a railroad bridge, with a centre span of not less than four hundred feet, over the Ohio river at Paducah, and constituting it a post road. Passed.

Mr. WARNER, from Committee on Public Lands, reported a joint resolution to revive the grant of lands for the construction of a railroad from Selma to Gadston, Alabama, and to confirm the same to the Selma, Rome and Dalton Railroad Company. Passed.

Mr. RICE introduced a bill to extend the time for the completion of the first section of the Little Rock and Fort Smith Railroad. Referred to Committee on Pacific Railroad.

Mr. FENTON introduced a bill for the encouragement of yachting, improvement in naval architecture, etc. Referred to Committee on Naval Affairs.

Mr. WILSON introduced a bill to relinquish the title of the United States to certain lands in the city and county of San Francisco. Referred to Committee on Military Affairs.

Also, a bill donating certain condemned material to the Industrial Home School in the District of Columbia. Referred to Committee on District of Columbia.

Mr. THAYER introduced a bill amending the Homestead law, so as to require the planting of trees on homestead and pre-emption settlements.

Mr. OSBORN introduced a bill for the removal of political disabilities of persons named therein. Referred to Committee on Political Disabilities.

Mr. KELLOGG introduced a joint resolution granting the right of way to the New Orleans and Ship Island Canal Company.

Mr. SUMNER offered a joint resolution postponing the election in Texas. Referred to Judiciary Committee.

The bill to authorize the purchase of lands from the Osage Indians by actual settlers was passsd.

The expiration of the morning hour brought up the unfinished business, the Indian Appropriation bill.

Mr. HARLAN, from the Committee on Indian Affairs, offered a series of amendments, some of which were agreed to, and others rejected.

The bill was still under consideration at four o'clock, when the Senate went into Executive Session and some time after adjourned.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

Mr. SCHENCK, from the Committee on Ways and Means, reported a resolution instructing that Committee, or a sub-committee thereof, to make an examination of the revision of the tariff laws, and of laws and regulations relating to Custom Houses and bonded warehouses, with authority to examine witnesses, take testimony and sit during vacation, at such times and places as may be deemed advisable, which was adopted.

Mr. SAWYER, from the Committee on Commerce, reported the River and Harbor Appropriation bill. Referred to the Committee on Appropriations.

Mr. DAVIS introduced a bill to define vacancies in office and to provide for filling the same, and to regulate resignations in office. Referred to Judiciary Committee.

Mr. DAVIS also introduced a bill to encourage the detection of frauds on the Government. Referred to Judiciary Committee.

Mr. STEVENS introduced a joint resolution to legalize certain navy regulations. Referred to Committee on Naval Affairs.

The House then resumed the consideration of the bill to provide for the organization of a Provisional Government for Mississippi.

Messrs. Ward, Maynard, Whittemore and Lawrence advocated the bill, when Mr. BUTLER moved the previous question, which was seconded.

Mr. BUTLER, who was entitled to the floor to close the debate, yielded a part of his time to Mr. STEVENSON, who spoke in favor of the bill.

Mr. BUTLER resumed the floor and proceeded to criticize the course of his colleague, (Mr. Dawes,) its effect being to keep the loyal people of Mississippi out of the Union.

Mr. DAWES desired to ask a question, but

Mr. Butler refused to yield, and continued with his argument. He warned the Republican members, that if Mississippi and Georgia were not reconstructed with loyal legislatures, the Fifteenth Amendment could not be passed, and they would lose half a dozen States. Every man on the other side of the house knew that well, and laughed in his sleeve at those Republicans whom they got to do their work. They knew right well what they were about. He knew them of old. He used to be one of them. (Laughter.) They used the Whigs, in the olden days, as the monkey used the cat's paw to pull chestnuts out of the fire. Referring to the remarks of Mr. Farnsworth yesterday, as to his taking up the cudgel for the black man years ago, when men who were now Republicans were acting with the slaveholders' party, he said some persons thought more of Judas than of Paul, because Judas was the older apostle of the two. Mr. Butler would wait to give the vote to the white men of the South, until it would be safe for every Union man in the South to sleep in his cabin with the latch string out. Then he would go with the gentleman (Mr. Farnsworth) for the black men, and not till then; so help him God, not till then.

The House then proceeded to vote on Mr. Farnsworth's motion, to postpone the bill till the first Monday in December next, and the bill was postponed—yeas 103, nays 62.

Yeas—Messrs. Allison, Archer, Armstrong, Axtell, Bailey, Beck, Biggs, Bird, Blair, Brooks, Burr, Calkin, Cleveland, Cowles, Crebs, Cullom, Dawes, Dewees, Dickinson, Dixon, Dockery, Eldridge, Farnsworth, Ferris, Finckleburg, Fitch, Garfield, Getz, Gilfillan, Galladay, Griswold, Haldeman, Hall, Hembleton, Hamill, Hawkins, Hawley, Hoag, Holman, Hopkins, Hotchkiss, Jenckes, Johnsen, Jones, (Kentucky,) Kerr, Laflin, Loughridge, Lynd, Marshall, Mayham, McCarthy, McCormick, McCreery, Mercur, McNeely, Moffet, Moore, (Illinois,) Mooore, (New Jersey,) Morgan, Morrill, (Pennsylvania,) Morrill, (Maine,) Mungen, Niblack, O'Neill, Packer, Palmer, Peters, Poland, Pomeroy, Potter, Randall, Reading, Reeves, Rice, Rogers, Schenck, Schumaker, Scofield, Shanks, Slocum, Smith, (Vermont,) Smythe, (Iowa,) Stevens, Stiles, Stokes, Stone, Strickland, Swann, Sweeny, Taffe, Tanner, Trimble, Twitchell, Van Aucken, Voorhees, Washburn, (Wisconsin.) Washburne, (Massachusetts,) Wells, Wilkinson, Willard, Wilson, (Minnesota,) Winans, Woodward—103.

Nays—Messrs. Ambler, Arnell, Aspen, Bramen, Beatty, Benton, Bingham, Bowen, Boyd, Bullington, Burdell, Butler, (Mass.,) Butler, (Tenn.,) Cake, Cessna, Churchill, Cobb, (Wis.,) Cobb, (N. C.,) Coburn, Cook, Conger, Donley, Duval, Ela, Fisher, Hay, Heaton, Hill, Hoar, Jones, (N. C.,) Judd, Julian, Kelly, Kelsey, Knapp, Lash, Lawrence, Maynard, Moore, Negley, Orth, Packard, Paine, Phelps, Prosser, Root, Sargent, Sheldon, Smith, (Ohio,) Smith, (Tenn.,) Stevenson, Stoughton, Tillman, Tiner, Upson, Van Horn, Ward, Welker, Whittemore, Williams, Wilson, (Ohio,) and Wilcher—62.

Mr. PAINE, from Committee on Elections, reported that Mr. Simpson, claiming a seat from the Fourth District of South Carolina, is not eligible.

Mr. MAYNARD introduced a bill to increase the revenue from duties on imports, and for the equalization of exports and imports, being the bill prepared last session by a sub-committee of the Committee of Ways and Means. Referred to Committee of Ways and Means.

Mr. BOYD offered a resolution requiring the Secretary of War to furnish a list of unpaid claims for Quartermaster and Commissary stores from the Fourth District of Missouri. Adopted.

Mr. CESSNA called up the election case of Covode vs. Foster, from the 21st election district of Pennsylvania, and argued in support of Covode's prima facia right to the seat.

Without disposing of the question, the House adjourned.

The Insurrection in Cuba.

(By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.)

HAVANA, April 1.—The steamer Comanditario has arrived at Nassau and her capturers at last accounts had abandoned her and gone ashore. She will probably be taken possession of and brought back to Havana by a Spanish man-of-war.

The Spanish war steamer Quadalquiver found a schooner abandoned near Signane and took her to Balabano. The schooner is supposed to be the vessel which recently landed a cargo on the coast near Cienfuegos.

In the Sagua district seven incendiaries were caught and executed on the plantations which they had destroyed.

Fresh troops from Spain arrived and disembarked this morning.

Sugar quiet; sales at 8½@8¾ reals.

Gen. Custar and the Indians—Report to Gen. Sheridan.

(By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.)

ST. LOUIS, April 1.—General Sheridan received, to-day, the following from Fort Leavenworth:

General Custar reports from the headwaters of the Washita, March 21st, the successful termination of his expedition. He has rescued the captive white women, Mrs. Morgan and Miss White, and made the Indians promise to come into their reservations and submit to the Government, and holds three Cheyenne chiefs as security for the fulfillment of their promise. The troops are in good health.

[Signed.] GEN. SCHOFIELD,
Major General. U. S. A.

Gen'l Sheridan, Gen'l Dugan, Col. Moore, Col. McGorigle and Capt. Beal arrived here this morning.

THE CAPITAL.

Public Debt Statement—Appointments by the President—Bill to Define Vacancies in Office—Cuban Recognition—Nominations Confirmed.

(By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.)

WASHINGTON, April 1, 1869.

THE PUBLIC DEBT STATEMENT

Just issued, differs from that of last month, in containing full details of the consolidated items heretofore shown. The decrease has been about two and a half millions, which would have been greater had the statement been postponed until the fifth or sixth of April, so as to include all the receipts of last month, some of which have not yet been returned to the department. At present the statement shows the aggregate debt bearing coin interest to be, $2,107,876,650; debt bearing interest in lawful money, $68,605,000; aggregate of matured debt not presented for payment, $6,003,403; debt bearing no interest, $414,413,485.

Total debt, principal outstanding, $2,596,898,538, and interest accrued, $39,303,916. Amount of coin in Treasury, $62,530,835; coin represented by gold certificates, $21,672,500: currency in Treasury, $6,802,628. Debt, less cash, $2,525,196,461.

Total amount of bonds issued to the Pacific Railroad Company, $56,852,320. The amount of interest which has accrued prior to January 1st, and up to the 16th, 1869, is $3,300,000, and of this amount the Government has received from transportation, &c., $1,317,352, leaving a balance due the United States of $2,828,760.

CUBAN RECOGNITION.

The Committee of Foreign Affairs has voted in favor of General Banks' Cuban recognition. As sanctioned by the Committee it provides for a joint resolution of sympathy with the people of Cuba in their struggle for independence, and pledges Congress to give its constitutional support to President Grant, whenever he may deem it expedient to formally recognize the independence of the island. There is no doubt of its adoption by both Houses, and the friends of Cuba state that it will exercise an important influence on the war, by securing the revolutionists moral as well as physical support. It is expected the Spanish Minister will present a remonstrance to the State Dhpartment against the recognition of Cuba, and that he will leave the country in case of the adoption of the Banks resolution.

NOMINATIONS BY THE PRESIDENT.

The following nominations were sent into the Senate to-day: John Allison, of Pennsylvania, Register of the Treasury, and the following to be Postmasters: Henry Ramsom, Marshall, Texas; A. M. Price, Lexington, Ky.; James S. Plummer, Tyrone, Pa.; Paron C. Young, Provincetown, Mass.; J. Deleach, Memphis, Tenn.

NOMINATIONS CONFIRMED.

The Senate confirmed John Allison as Register of the Treasury, and Franklin J. Rollins, as Collector of Internal Revenue for the First District of Maine. The remainder of the Executive session was occupied in the discussion of the nomination of Gen. Longstreet for Surveyor at New Orleans.

BILLS RELATIVE TO VACANCIES.

SEC. 1. That all offices of the United States, the incumbents of which are or may be appointed under and pursuant to the provisions of section two of article two of the Constitution of the United States, except Judges of Supreme and Inferior Courts, shall become vacant upon the happening of either of the following events: first, upon the death of the incumbent; second, upon the resignation of the incumbent; third, upon the expiration of the term for which the incumbent shall have been appointed, but this provision shall not be construed to prevent such incumbent from discharging the duties of the office until his successor be appointed; fourth, where the office is local, by the removal of the incumbent from the district or jurisdiction within which the duties of his office are by law required to be performed, so he shall cease to be a resident of such district or jurisdiction, or by his absconding therefrom; fifth, upon judgment being pronounced, upon conviction of the incumbent of any felony under the laws of the United States, or of any State or Territory, or of any act or offence made criminal by the law of the United States relating to the duties of his office.

SEC. 2. Resignation of office shall be made in writing, and in all cases, where the officer was appointed by the President by and with the advice and consent of the Senate, the resignation shall be made to the President, and in all other cases to the officer, court of law, or head of department by whom the appointment was made; such resignation may be made to take effect immediately, or at some time designated therein, and the appointment of a successor may be made to take effect concurrently with the resignation.

SEC. 3. In all cases where a vacancy shall happen during the recess of the Senate, upon either of the events above specified, in any office appointed by the President with the advice and consent of the Senate, the President shall have power to fill up the same by granting a commission which shall expire at the end of the next session of the Senate; all other vacancies may be filled by the officer, court of law, or head of department having by law the power to appoint the officer.

TEXAS RECONSTRUCTION.

Ex-Governor Hamilton made a speech before the Reconstruction Committee, this morning, in favor of the reconstruction of Texas under the constitution adopted by the convention. Mr. Varnell, of Texas, argued against the constitution and in opposition to the division of the State.

CALLED ON THE PRESIDENT.

Delegates from Texas and Georgia called on the President to-day. It having been announced that President Grant was averse to reports being made of such conversations, no members of the press were present.

CONTESTED ELECTION.

The contested election case from the Third District of Pennsylvania was to-day submitted to the Committee on Elections, in printed arguments.

TENURE-OF-OFFICE ACT.

The Speaker and Vice President have severally signed the amended Tenure-of-Office act, and it will be presented to the President to-day.

GEN. STONEMAN.

Gen. Stoneman has been ordered by the President to accompany his regiment to the Pacific coast, having been relieved from command at Richmond yesterday.

ASSUMED HIS DUTIES.

The warrant issued by the Treasury during March for the support of the Government amounted to $20,580,000.

Steamer Galatia Sunk.

(By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.)

ST. LOUIS, April 1.—The steamboat Galatia, with 225 tons of bulk meat on board, valued at $15,000, sunk last night thirty miles above Alton. She lies in shallow water, and can be easily raised. Her cargo is but slightly damaged.

Snow in Minnesota.

(By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.)

ST. PAUL, April 1.—Six inches of snow has fallen this morning; still snowing and drifting.

An Expensive Breakfast.

There seems to be a diversity of opinion about one of Cleopatra's breakfasts. It was the most costly breakfast that has ever been served to a single human being. I will, therefore, tell what I know about it. After having partaken of Cleopatra's necklace, Mark Antony determined to devise the costliest breakfast ever given. After several days of gastronomical meditations, not having found what he was looking for, he summoned his cook to his presence, and told him that, if he could get up a dainty breakfast for a lady, which should be composed of as few and as small dishes as possible, and at the same time, be most costly, he would reward him accordingly.

Several weeks afterward, the cook entered Mark Antony's study, and told him that he was ready to serve the dainty breakfast asked of him, and that it was composed of one olive only. At the appointed hour, the cook entered the dining room, followed by one hundred men carrying the olive (in its artificial envelope) on their shoulders. They deposited it on a table for the occasion, and fifty carvers were set to work on it. After several hours of hard work, the triumphant cook placed the olive before the Egyptian Queen, who looked at it with amazement still with perfect delight.

The olive had been prepared in the following way: After having been stoned, it was stuffed with a rich custard, then put inside of a boned canary, which was used to stuff an ortolan. The latter was placed inside of a boned oriole, which was used to stuff a thrush, which thrush stuffed a boned lark. A boned snipe was stuffed with the lark and placed inside of a robin, which was used to stuff a plover, and which latter bird filled a quail, which was then placed inside of a pigeon. The pigeon filled a woodcock, the woodcock a partridge, the latter a grouse, the grouse a pheasant, the pheasant a chicken, the chicken a guinea fowl, which was placed inside of a goose; the goose filled a turkey, the turkey a swan, the latter an ostrich, which was used to stuff a sheep, the sheep a calf, the calf an antelope, the latter a pig, the pig a deer, the deer a bear, the bear a heifer, the latter an elk, the elk an ox, the ox a hippopotamus, the latter an elephant. The olive was then roasted in its envelope, which envelope was thrown away and the olive only was served.—Pierre Blot, in March Galaxy.

FROM an esteemed correspondent stationed at Fort Macon, North Carolina, we have received the particulars of a singular and fatal accident which occurred there on Sunday night last. There are about fifty army prisoners confined there under guard. On the day previous two companies of the 8th Infantry, regulars, relieved the 40th Infantry, who had been guarding the post. The new officer of the day gave strict orders that any body leaving the Fort after dark should be halted by the guards and shot if they did not come to a halt. That night the cry of fire was raised, a chimney burning causing it, when the officer of the day and some soldiers ran up to the top of the ramparts to see where the fire was. The green guards hearing the cry of "fire, fire," mistook it for a command, and fired with their muskets on their comrades, instantly killing one and mortally wounding the officer of the day.

CHICAGO, April 1.—At open Board in the afternoon there was a moderate demand for No. 2 Wheat, and the market was moderately active, though quiet and ⅝@¾c lower; selling $1,09⅞@1,10½; closing at $1,10. Corn dull and weak at 53@53¼c for new. In the evening the market was quiet and unchanged. Provisions dull. Beef Cattle dull and drooping; receipts, 1,371 head; sales at $4,42@4,75@5,75 for butchers' stock, $6@7,62½ for light to choice, and $9,75 for beeves. Live Hogs dull; sales 2,878 head at $9,25@9,75 for common, $9,90@10,35 for fair to medium, and $10,50@10,75 for good to choice.

NASHVILLE, April 1.—Cotton dull and lower; low to medium at 25c, and good to ordinary at 24c.

APART.

At sea are tossing ships,
On shore are dreaming shells,
And the waiting heart and the loving lips,
Blossoms and bridal bells.

At sea are sails a-gleam:
On shore are longing eyes
And the far horizon's haunting dream
Of ships that sail the skies.

At sea are masts that rise
Like spectres from the deep;
On shore are the ghosts of drowning cries
That cross the waves of sleep.

At sea are wrecks a strand;
On shore are shells that moan,
Old anchors buried in barr-n sand,
Sea-mist and dreams alone.

PENNSYLVANIA.

SHAD are becoming plentiful at York.

THE ICE on the lake has left the neighborhood of Erie.

PASSENGER trains commenced crossing the new bridge at Columbia last week.

MONEY is tight in Reading, and the exigencies of quarter-day are causing people to rush to the banks.

THE STATE PAPERS complain of the wretched condition of the roads under the influence of the late rains.

THE Delaware river is reported to be in fine running order for rafts, though but few have yet appeared.

MILES MCBRIDE, of Armstrong county, was so badly frozen some nights ago that he died the ensuing evening.

THE GRAIN FIELDS look promising in the centre of the State, and the fruit appears to be in good condition.

A MAN named Francis Cope was killed at Clarion, by slipping from the roof of a house while engaged in shingling it.

SOME RAFTS have passed Clearfield on their way down the river, although the season has not yet fairly commenced.

SPRING WORK is beginning among the farmers, and they are much encouraged by the favorable prospect before them.

THE citizens of Union county are again agitating the question of a railroad from Bellefonte to Lewistown via Boalsburg.

DR. CHRISTIAN HERSHEY, formerly of Lancaster county, was murdered in Muscatine, Iowa, by a man named Mori.

THE contractors for the Sand Patch Tunnel have thrown up the job; we have not learned why.—Monongahela Republican.

A BALD EAGLE, measuring six feet and four inches from tip to tip of the wings, was caught in Chester county recently.

THE PENNSYLVANIA CANAL, along the banks of the Susquehanna, is to be made ten or fifteen feet wider and several feet deeper.

THE Pennsylvania State Agricultural Society has determined to hold its exhibition on the 28th of September, and to continue it for four days.

THE State papers are noticing the approach of the day appointed by the Grand Army of the Republic, for the decoration of the graves of soldiers who fell in the war.

The Doylestown Democrat says: Awful accounts of the peach prospects are beginning to circulate, in order to accustom the people to high prices before the time arrives.

THE PEOPLE of Susquehanna are taking much interest in the construction of a railroad from Binghampton to the coal regions of Pennsylvania, for which several routs are proposed.

THE POSTOFFICE at Tamaqua was entered by burglars, on Friday night last, and robbed of $25 in money. A large number of letters and papers were scattered about on the floor.

Two miners named Rosser Griffith and Wm. Lauderback, were severely burned by the explosion of fire damp in the Cincinnati works on Saturday last. Dr. King attended their injuries.

REV. JONATHAN EDWARDS, D.D., President of Washington and Jefferson College, Canonsburg, Pa., has been called to the pastorate of the Second Presbyterian church, Baltimore.

A MAN named Bowe, who was arrested last December for swindling operations in the Eastern part of the State, but escaped from the officers, is at work again, victimizing people in various ways.

UNION COUNTY has no debt, and has some $4,000 in her treasury. Her taxes are but two and one half mills on the dollar; her jail is nearly always empty; she has a university, high school, and two academies.

ALTOONA complains of being stuck in the mud, and is agitating the question of obtaining from the Legislature permission to borrow a sum of money, sufficient to put the streets in passable condition at all seasons of the year.

THE powder mill of Messrs. Dupont & Co., located at Waywalopen, four miles from Berwick, exploded at 9 o'clock on Tuesday morning last, horribly mangling and killing Messrs. Geo. Wildrich, foreman, and Wilson Eckrot. The shock was distinctly felt at Berwick.

SEVERAL gentlemen from Bradford county, among them Hon. Geo. Landon and Geo. H. Wood, have been South for the purpose of examining the lands there. If everything is favorable, we have no doubt quite a number of our citizens will remove to Virginia during the coming season.—Reporter.

MISS MARTHA DEAN, daughter of Mr. William Dean, a farmer, residing near Huntingdon, was burned to death on the night of Wednesday, March 24th. The house caught fire during the night, and the flames made such rapid progress that she was unable to escape. Her sister, too, was badly burned.

THE York True Democrat says: John W. Seeley was arrested and taken to prison, on Friday last, charged with having administered poison to James Robinson, his father-in-law, who died suddenly in this borough on the 21st of February last. We have not heaed any of the particulars, and, consequently, have no comments to make. The case will of course undergo a thorough legal investigation.

IT SEEMS to be believed that "Captain Kidd, as he sailed," came up as far as Easton, and in Mt. Parnassus, in Phillipsburg, buried some pots of money, intending to call for them. But he, dying of the throat disease, a lot of simple-minded, lazy people are trying to find the precise spot where the uncalled-for money is buried. They dig quite lively for lazy people, but they have not come to the money yet.

PHILADELPHIA, Pittsburgh and Allegheny are the largest cities in the State.

The following is a list of the remaining cities, with their estimated population based on the vote of last October, and allowing six and a half persons to each voter: Reading, 39,817; Scranton, 29,601; Harrisburg, 25,135; Lancaster, 24,651; Williamsport, 19,792; Wilkesbarre, 16,706; Allentown, 16,775; York, 14,937; Erie, 14,274; Pottsville, 13,552; Norristown, 13,416.

A YOUNG MAN named Samuel Crosswell committed suicide at Columbus by hanging himself in his father's barn.

THE Ohio Legislature has enacted that a homestead valued at $1,000 shall be exempt from execution, and it is now a law.

A RAILROAD BILL has passed the Ohio Senate, placing foreign railroad companies who wish to lease roads in the State of Ohio on the same footing as the roads of that State.

THE CITIZENS of Poland will be astonished by the following item which we clip from an exchange: "A hog was killed in Poland, Ohio, the other day, in whose stomach was found thirty-six ten penny nails, half an old file and a suspender buckle. This is supposed to account for the recent mysterious disappearance of a small boy in that neighborhood.

OUR reports from all sections of the country are to the effect that the wheat prospects were never better than they are now. A much greater breadth of land was sown last Fall than for a number of years, and the good weather gave it firm root and the grain looks exceedingly well If no unforeseen disaster should occur, the wheat crop of this country this season will greatly exceed any crop of two or three years previous.

East Shore of Lake Michigan.

The towns across the lake, on the Michigan side, appear in a prosperous condition. A correspondent from Muskegon writes to the Prairie Farmer as follows:

"The influx of fruit-growers into the fruit belt of the eastern shore, has stimulated the formation of Horticultural Societies at the most prominent points. This town (Muskegon) has 8,000 inhabitants, and in addition to it twenty-six extensive saw mills, with a capacity of turning out 270,000,000 feet of lumber annually, is this year to have a flouring mill, a new and beautiful Court House, and one, perhaps two railroads. All these enterprises, in addition to our splendid harbor, and our facilities for shipping lumber, fruit and salt, will combine to build up the second city in the State of Michigan.

Another correspondent for the same paper, writing from South Haven, on the east shore of the lake, says:

"The coldest day in December the thermometer was six degrees below zero, while hnndreds of miles south it was from eight to twenty-four degrees below. These facts account for the certainty of fruit in this region, which never fails. Peach trees are very healthy and have always borne since there have been trees large enough to bear. Land can now be bought from one to five miles from town for from twenty to three hundred dollars per acre, but is rising fast. We have a good prospect now of having a railroad within twelve or eighteen months. Whenever that becomes a fixed fact land will go up faster than ever.

Iron Weapons.

Quite a serious controversy is now being carried on in England in reference to the probable use of iron weapons by the races who lived during the "stone age." Arthur Helps, the author of the new philosophic novel, "Realman," in answer to the English critics on that work, has written a letter to prove that traces of iron have been found among the ruins of the towns built on piles in the Swiss lakes, and discovered in 1855, and hence that his hero was not made to perform an impossible act when he armed his troops with iron implements. Mr. Helps has copies of the engravings made from relics discovered in conjunction with the wooden piles that formed the foundation of the lake cities—pictures of bracelets, hair pins, poniards, lance-heads and other articles unmistakably belonging to the lacustrine antiquities—and on the strength of these, together with the evidence of eye-witnesses, he claims to have established the correctness of his description.

THE Duke of Montpensier, who, the cable says, is to be King of Spain, is the fifth son of Louis Phillippe, formerly King of the French. He was born at Neuilly, near Paris, in 1824. His cunning father married him in 1846 to the Spanish Princess Louisa, the sister of Queen Isabella II. and at the same time brought about the Queen's marriage to her imbecile cousin, Francis of Assisi. Louis Phillippe supposed that this would be a childless marriage, and that the children of the Duke of Montpensier would accordingly inherit the Spanish throne. His calculation has proved erroneous in every way. He himself died in exile, and for more than twenty years none of his family have seen their native country. Isabella II. has a number of children, and yet the old King's principal end will be essentially gained when Montpensier himself puts on the crown of Spain, with a reasonable chance, as things go, of transmitting it to his posterity. The new King will be known as Antonio I.

PIERRE SOULE INSANE.—The melancholy fact, says the New Orleans Times, of the 19th, can no longer be concealed. One of the brightest of intellects and bravest of spirits has sunk into hopeless imbecility. A rare genius has suffered a total eclipse. Passions once so strong, noble and generous; faculties that were wont to engage the admiration of all, to illumine all subjects and diffuse a radiance in all circles, have succumbed to some mysterious power, and now thick darkness and debility possess the mind and soul of one of the most gifted of our citizens.

A MAN named Kimball, who was captured by the Indians in 1847, has just made his appearance in St. Louis, with a wife and one child. He has led a genuine savage life for over twenty years. His wife was also a captive reared by the Indians from childhood. He found her mother in another tribe. All she knows of English she has learned from her husband.

A Reminiscence of a Poet.

In the spring of 185—, I was a student, out of health and out of funds. To be sure there was nothing remarkable in that, for students are apt to be in that way. But it led me to ramble toward the sea, and that took me through Amesbury, the home of Whittier. I carried the universal black bag, filled with "pins, needles, thimbles, sewing silk," etc., which served me instead of a purse; to all intents and purposes, then, I was a de facto peddler, a class of individuals not generally mentioned the same day with the minister nor thought much of in comparison with quarterly meetings.

When I came into Amesbury I was tired and hungry, with a long day's walk, without a dinner. I had little money in my pockets, so I depended on the bag. It was near dark, and Saturday night. So I began the inquiry for an abiding place for the Sabbath; but what right had I, a peddler, to expect any family to put themselves out to accommodate me? "There was a good hotel in the place." But with me a hotel was out of the question. And so I trudged on and got substantially the same reply from all. At length I turned into Friend street; I had entirely forgotten that the "Quaker poet" lived in the town. And going on indiscriminately in my applications, I approached a neat cottage, erabowered in shrubbery, and the yard adorned with flowers, and through a open window I observed a table piled up with books and newspapers. "Probably a lawyer, or a minister," said I, "little luck for me here." I rang the bell, and a tall, spare man, with prominent feature and a mild countenance, opened the door. From the portraits I had seen, I recognized him in a moment. I had stumbled upon the poet.

"Good evening young man," he said.

I responded. But I was abashed, and, observing a hesitation in my manner, he invited me in. The benevolence in his voice gave me assurance.

"I am a peddlar, sir," said I, "in pursuit of a place to spend the Sabbath."

"I would keep you with great pleasure," said he, had I a place for you to sleep, but unfortunately there is a quarterly meeting of Friends here, and I have my beds all full. But there is a good man lives in that house (pointing) who will. But you look tired," said he, "are you well?"

I confessed I was not.

"I think Mr. Barnard will do well by you," said he; "if he cannot, come back to me. I am sorry to send you any further. It is a thing I never do when I can avoid it."

I went to Barnard's, presented my request, and was at once received. But I had scarcely disposed of my bag and hat when Whittier came in.

"You looked so pale, young man," said he, "that I felt I had not done right and come on after you lest you should be compelled to walk further. I happened to think I could not sleep on the sofa myself."

He then sat down and talked with me for an hour, while the good wife was preparing supper, as if I had been an equal. I was, in fact, for he compelled me to be. He would not even receive my thanks for his kindness.

The next morning he invited me with him to their meeting, at the plain wooden meeting house on the edge of the wood near the village. He showed me all the conveniences of the house, how they divided it by a sliding partition, etc. He then took me into his seat, and sat down with his hat on. Plain, intelligent, prim-looking men, tidy women, and neat children came in and sat down quietly. There was never a doubt what each one had on; they were all dressed plainly and alike. And there we sat till the village clock struck twelve. Then Whitter gave me his right hand, and the congregation departed. The Spirit had not moved; not a word had been spoken.

As we separated at the gate of Mr. B's yard he bade me the kindest of good days, and I stood and gazed after him with more admiration and reverence than I ever felt for any other great man.—Cor. Springfield Republican.

"Smike the Bootiful; or, no one tu Bully." A highly tuchin tale, bound in paper. Original plot—luv, rival, castor ile, murder, soft sope, rum and piety. Smike, the Bootiful, is the pride of the ranche. He borrows five dollars of his trew luv and gets very drunk—steals a hoss—vigilance com.—presents such a perfect picter ov despare that he iz hung up in a frame; soon arfter packed in a box and surrounded by land. Trew luv goes crazy—not for Smike, but for the five $. Secloods herself in a notanyery and refuses to be confronted. "Tiz nothin but some faded flour"—end. This work iz bound in yeller, and konsequently will sell. The awthoe's fotograf haz bin very wisely left out. A splended wood kut ov the borrowed 5$ bill adorns the last page. Reach for it.

"Lano Hank, the Prid of the Southnorth, or, a dollar a day and bord your boss." Too true to be good. The riter lax brains very heavily. The plot iz pitcht in the State ov Maine, and runs all thru the Middle States. Bosh, the hull on it. The fools ar not all ded yet and ov corse it will sel. Buy it. KRINGLE.

CATTLE DISEASES IN EUROPE.—It is reported that cattle diseases prevail very extensively at the present time in Eastern Europe, and great fears are entertained of its extension from Austria to those States from which England receives a large supply of cattle. Not only are Moldavia, Wallachia and Trannsylvania greatly infected, but also Poland, Gallicia, and Hungary. The pleuro-pneumonia is also said to be on the increase, not only in the London dairies but in several parts of the country, and on the continent. Recent information reports its existence in severe form in Spain. The small-pox of sheep is also reported to have recently broken out in the neighborhood of Hamburg, and to be still prevalent in some parts of Holland, particularly near Rotterdam.

CONTINUES TO TREAT ALL
private diseases Syphilis in all its forms, Gonorrhea, Gleet, Stricture, Orchitis, and all urinary diseases, and the effects of mercury are completely eradicated; Spermatorrhea or Seminal Weakness and Impotency, resulting from self-abuse or other causes, and which produces some of the following effects, as blotches, bodily weakness, indigestion, consumption, aversion to society, unmanliness, dread of future events, loss of memory, indolence, nocturnal emissions, and finally prostration of the vital powers, are permanently cured. Persons afflicted with these or any other delicate, intricate or long standing constitutional complaint should give the Doctor a trial; he never fails.
A particular attention given to all Female complaints, Leucorhea or Whites, Falling, Inflammation or Ulceration of the Womb, Ovaritis, pruritis, Amenorrhoea, Menorrhagia, Dysmenorrhoea, and Sterility or Barrenness, are treated with the greatest success.
It is self-evident that a physician who confines himself exclusively to the study of a certain class of diseases and treats thousands of cases every year must acquire greater skill in that specialty than one in general practice.
The Doctor publishes a medical pamphlet of fifty pages that gives a full exposition of venereal and private diseases, that can be had free at office or by mail for two stamps. Every sentence contains instruction to the afflicted, and enabling them to determine the precise nature of their complaints.
The establishment, comprising ten ample rooms, is central. When it is not convenient to visit the city, the Doctor's opinion can be obtained by giving a written statement of the case, and medicines can be forwarded by mail or express. In some instances, however, a personal examination is absolutely necessary, while in others daily personal attention is required, and for the accommodation of such patients there are apartments connected with the office that are provided with every requisite that is calculated to promote recovery, including medicated vapor baths. All prescriptions are prepared in the Doctor's own laboratory, under his personal supervision. Medical pamphlets at office free, or by mail for two stamps. No matter who have failed, read what he says. Hours 9 A.M. to 8 P.M. Sundays 12 M to 2 P.M. ap2

PITTSBURGH MARKETS.

OFFICE OF PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, THURSDAY, April 1, 1869.

The inclement weather had a tendency to retard out door business to-day, which at best is dull, though as noted yesterday, there are some indications of improvement. Flour is a little stronger with a slightly improved demand, but as yet unchanged. Provisions steady with a good jobbing demand, and prices fully sustained. Grain of all kinds dull and neglected. Butter, Eggs and Cheese in good demand, and firm at quotations.

APPLES—Are coming in more freely, but with a steady demand, prices are maintained, ranging from $4@6 per bbl, as to quality.

APPLE BUTTER—Is quiet and unchanged, at 90@$1 per gallon.

BUTTER—There is a continued good demand, and we can report regular sales of prime to choice Roll at 45@48.

BEANS—In good supply and rather dull but unchanged; $3,50 to the trade, and $3,75 in a retail way.

BUCKWHEAT FLOUR—Dull; 3@3¼.

CRANBERRIES—Sales at $18@$22.

CHEESE—Sales of New York Goshen at 24@25, and the market almost bare.

CORNMEAL—$1,75@1.85 per cwt.

CARBON OIL—May be quoted at 30@31 for standard brands in a jobbing way.

DRIED FRUIT—Peaches dull; sales of quarters at 14 and halves at 18. Apples at 10@12 cts, as to quality.

EGGS—In limited supply and in good demand with sales at 27@28.

HOMINY—$6@6,25.

HEMP—Quoted at $225 per ton.

PROVISIONS—The market is steady with a good city and country demand while prices remain unchanged. Sales of Bacon at 14½@ for Shoulders; Ribbed Sides, 16¾@ 17; Clear Sides, 18@18¼, and Sugar Cured Hams 19½. Steamed Lard, 19½, kettle rendered, 20@20½. Mess Pork $32,50. Dried Beef 21.

POTATOES—In good local demand with regular sales, in store, at 75@80 per bushel.

PEANUTS—10 cts per pound.

GRAIN—Winter Wheat is being sold at $1,48@1,50 for prime Red. Oats dull but unchanged; 64@65 on track and wharf, and 67@68 in store. Corn is dull and neglected but unchanged: 70@75, as to quality. Rye is dull at $1,40. Barley is quiet with but little offering; offers to buy prime Spring at $2.

SEEDS—There is a very fair demand for Clover, with sales at $10@10,50, and Timothy at $3.50@3,75. Flaxseed quoted at $2,45@2,50.

SALT—Is quiet but steady, and is still quoted at $2 by the car load.

SORGHUM—60@65c.

FEATHERS—A shade firmer, and we now quote live geese feathers at 80 to the trade, and the usual advance in a retail way.

FLOUR—We can report a slightly improved demand, and a little stronger feeling but no change in prices. Spring Wheat brands $6,25 to 6,75@7. Winter Wheat $7,50@8. Rye Flour $7,00@ 7,25. The following are the Pearl Mill prices for their brands of flour made of the best wheat: Pearl Mill three star green brand, in barrels, $9,90 in sacks $9,60; double extra in barrels $9,00, and in sacks at $8,90; Pearl Mill family in barrels, $8,40, and in sacks at $8,00, Spring Wheat brands in barrels $7,30, and in sacks $7,00. The Pittsburgh City Mills prices are as follows: Choice White Winter Wheat Flour, in bbls, $9,30, and sacks $9,00, choice Red Winter Wheat Flour, in bbls, $7,75, and in sacks $7,50; choice Spring Wheat Flour, in bbls, $7,30, and in sacks, $7 per bbl.

WHISKY—Highwines very dull: may be quoted in a jobbing way at 92@93.

LARD Oil—Sales No. 1 at $1,60@1,65, and No. 2, at $1,28@1,30.

RIVER NEWS.

Both rivers were falling slowly last evening with seventeen feet in the channel by the Monongahela marks. Weather wet and very disagreeable, which tended somewhat to retard out door business. Mercury at 4 P. M., 42.

The Kenton was expected in last night and will return to Portsmouth to-day, as usual at 4 P. M. Capt. Wash Kerr in command.

The Wauanita from New Orleans is due here to-morrow.

The Mollie Ebert departed for St. Louis and Missouri River yesdteray, with a good trip, including six hundred tons of freight, and one hundred cabin passengers. Pilots—Capt. G. W. Ebert and Jacob Poe.

The Emma No. 3, departed for New Orleans with a splended trip, having all the freight she could take, probably 700 tons, and a fair number of passengers. The great bulk of her cargo is for Memphis and New Orleans. Pilots—John Ferguson and Tom Morris.

The Ida Rees No. 2, departed for St. Louis and Fort Benton, with a fair freight list and engagements below, sufficient to fill out. Pilots—Barney Given and Andy Bunting.

The Armadillo is on the dock undergoing repairs. She will be ready for business next week.

—The Kate Putnam, Capt. G. W. Reed, is filling up steadily, and will be the first boat out for Nashville.

—The Robt. Burns and Maggie Hays were advertised to leave Cincinnati for Pittsburgh on Thursday.

—The wharfmaster at Evansville is planting locust posts, with ring bolts attached, on the levee for the convenience of steamers.

—The George W. Cheek, in backing out from Memphis, tore off sixty feet of the larboard guard of the Coosa, damaging her to the amount of $500.

—Reports of the sale of the G. A. Thomson for $10,000 are premature. It is reported that the purchasing parties backed out, and bought the Lady Grace.

—The keel is laid, and most of the frame is up, of the new United States Mail Line steamer now being built by James Howard & Co., at Jeffersonville. The boat will be completed in sixty days.

—The Importer has carried over 11,000 bales of cotton out of the Arkansas river country during the present season. She is said to have made more money than any other upper river boat that went South.

—The Collossal, Capt. M. A. Cox, is now ready for engagements to St. Louis and Missouri River, clear up to Fort Benton. She is a bran new boat, and is considered one of the best yet built for the mountain trade.

—Saturday night, as the steamer New York was receiving a lot of hay at Twelve-mile Point, a bale of hay, weighing 400 pounds, was rolled against one of the crew, knocking him over a bluff bank and injuring him severely.

—The new and splended Northern Line steamer Minneapolis, Capt. T. B. Rhodes, is almost finished and will commence business within a day or two. Here is a chance for persons going west, and one that they should take advantage of.

—A meeting of the citizens of Charleston, West Virginia, was held on the 20th inst., which adopted a resolution that this meeting recommend to the merchants and business men of Wheeling and Charleston, to establish, as early as possible, a weekly line of steamers to ply between these cities.

—On Friday the case of Charles Lattimer vs. the city of Columbus was decided in the United States District Court at Columbus by the jury returning a verdict for the defendant. Lattimer claimed $100,000 damages for the loss of the steamer B. P. Cheeney, which was captured by the Confederates at Columbus in August, 1861.

—A floating hotel is to be opened on the Hudson river. A steamboat is to be towed to Pollipell's Island, in Newburgh Bay, near Cornwall, where she will be permanently anchored. She will be thoroughly overhauled and repaired, refurnished and repainted, and so altered as to convert her into a first-class summer boarding-house.

—The Mississippi was open at Winona on the 26th inst., at this place, says the St. Paul Pioneer, the ice still holds, although it is covered with water, and wears a blackish look, a sure indication that it is washing away very rapidly. The river is rising very fast, and river men are making conjectures as well as bets upon a speedy moving of the ice in front of the city.

—The steamer Pilot, a small craft on the Wabash River, brought to Clinton, says a Vincennes exchange, a big cargo of unhonered women from Terre Haute. The citizens of Clinton, learning this, turned out en masse and stoned her—the boat. The Pilot cut loose and moved along with her precious cargo. Served them right. They deserved to be stoned for attempting to harass and misguide that innocent village.

—The New Albany Ledger, of Monday, thus refers to the Dexter: On Saturday, there was a meeting of the creditors of the boat, when the owners proposed to deliver her up to their order. The owners voluntarily, on their part, made the proposition, and it was agreed that the boat should be sold by Capt. Sam Montgomery, for their benefit. We understand that the debts of the boat amount to over $50,000. The Dexter cost over $100,000, and is only one year old. She is rated a first-class boat, and ought to bring at least $75,000.

—The Cincinnati Gazette, has heard it said that Capt. Asa Shepard, late of the America, has been an owner in twelve steamboats that have been lost by accident and misfortune, and that he never was owner in a boat that was not "unlucky".....We clip the following from the same paper: Capt. Geo. Wolf was yesterday morning united in marriage with Miss Penelope Lemonade, at the Episcopal Church, Newport, Ky. Attendants were his friend, Major S. P. Armstrong, at Cincinnati, and her friend, Miss Lavalette Davidson, Indianapolis. The bride is reputed to be the most beautiful lady in Campbell county, Kentucky.

U. S. BONDS at Frankfort, 87⅞.

GOLD closed in New York yesterday at 131⅛.

OHIO intends to be heard on the bridge question, by a legislative bill prohibiting the construction of any bridge of less than five hundred feet span.

THE Progress of Liberty, a new weekly journal, Republican in politics, and to be especially devoted to the interests of the colored race, has come to us from Harrisburg. We sincerely wish for its success.

THE Tenure-of-Office question has been settled, in a way substantially as we anticipated. The Conference Committee agreed to a mere change of form, leaving the substance of the Senate bill to stand. Its action has been ratified in both Houses, and the new law awaits the President's signature.

THE action of our State Senate, in throwing out the small appropriation for the Pittsburgh School of Design, elicits an universal expression of regret in our community. It is thought that Senators, misled by the local title of that institution, overlook the fact that its advantages are freely accorded to all the people of this Commonwealth, and that the ends to be attained are essentially for the promotion of those industrial interests in which Pennsylvania is so deeply interested.

THE Boston Post has known, for thirty-seven years past, how to make unsound political opinions, always forcibly avowed, compatible with the hearty good will of its sincerest opponents. Always in the local minority, it has been surpassed by few, or none, of the journalistic exponents of majority-opinions in New England, in the way of pecuniary success. The Post has thriven, simply because it has been a first-rate newspaper, and its managers propose to fight it out on the same line in the handsome new building to which they have just removed.

THE CONTROLLER of the Currency suggests to Congress the propriety of substituting bonds at four per cent. for those bearing six per cent., now lodged in the Treasury to secure the circulation of the National Banks. And, in view of the urgent calls from many portions of country for an increase of the circulation, the Controller estimates that the additional amount of bonds, required for securing another $50,000,000 of currency, might be issued, und the total amount of interest paid would still be $2,190,152 less than is paid upon the six per cents. now held by the Treasury. By way of further inducement, the Controller points out that the increased issue of bonds could be sold for legal tender notes, to the extent of over $60,000,000 to be cancelled.

THE prospects are that many new districts in the Pennsplvauia oil regions will be developed this Spring. The land in the vicinity of Tionesta is attracting much attention, and, if the wells now being put down in that neighborhood prove paying ones, we can look for the drift of favor to settle in that direction. Property there is held high by the owners, and we believe none can be leased at any price at this particular stage of development. A tract about one mile above Tionesta, on the opposite side, has on it a flowing well for which ten thousand dollars has been refused, and we hear of equally fancy figures being offered in the same locality. From present appearances we judge that the oil regions of this State will be more fully developed during the present year than at any time during the great excitement which followed the discovery of the vast petroleum deposits in that part of our Commonwealth.

IT is authoritatively stated, by the Philadelphia North American, that "the Oil Creek Railroad has fallen into the hands of the Philadelphia and Erie Railroad, and this, with the other two oil railways previously controlled by the Company, gives our great corporation complete control of the railways traversing the oil region." And the same journal adds:

Lately, the Allegheny Valley Railroad has fallen into the control of the Pennsylvania company, and can, therefore, be worked for the oil trade in connection with the Western Pennsylvania Railroad as a through route to Philadelphia, avoiding the stoppage at Pittsburgh. But the Oil Creek Railroad connects with the Philadelphia and Erie at two points, and ought, therefore, to be the chief feeder of the petroleum market of Philadelphia.

As all these Corporations are now substantially under one control, the North American congratulates the people of Pennsylvania upon thus securing to themselves the carriage, as well as the production, of the main oil supply, and urges the importance of providing suitable facilities at Philadelphia, for monopolizing, also, the business of shipping it abroad.

BUSINESS AND SUICIDE.

The recent terrible tragedy in Philadelphia, enacted by a man who had enjoyed the reputation of being a church member, a kind husband and father, and a good citizen, is not without many companion pieces of similar wickedness in the recollection of our youngest readers. Indeed, at about the same time that he was butchering his wife and children, and making ready to destroy his own life, in order to complete his revenge on an unpropitious world, a prominent and highly respected merchant of Cleveland was penning a note to the Coroner, which was subsequently found on his bullet pierced body, saying "this is a case of suicide, caused by business cares and perplexities." The world is charitable enough to permit both these suicides to escape censure, covering their grave crimes against God and society with the plea of "depressed spirits," or "temporary derangement." There is a starting point at which that disease of the mind could readily be checked, if those who become victims cared to avoid the serious consequences which must inevitably follow its full development.

Ordinarily men in business have many difficulties to contend with. If their prosperity is uninterrupted, and their balance sheets at the close of each business period, develope large gains and profits, they are willing to be happy and cheerful, and may afford even so far to forget the thraldom of the counting-room as to laugh with their friends and be merry. Few men pass through a long term of business without encountering vexatious troubles or involving themselves in pecuniary embarrassments. When the sun is shining on the prosperous merchant, he should never forget that lurking clouds of adversity, at a moment's notice, may sweep across and darken and make gloomy his seemingly bright pathway to fortune. It is not in prosperity that buoyancy in spirits, cheerfulness and good nature, should attend the merchant, so much as when he is surrounded by unpropitious circumstances. He then needs all the powers of his body and mind to weather the storm and disentangle himself from the intricate difficulties in which placed, and if he falls into despondency and melancholy he loses them, and energyless, inert and incapable, he invites not only the continuance of his troubles, but likewise a wrecked intellect and premature death. A merchant who gives away to fretting, when his business matters go wrong, who loses patience with himself and the world if not as prosperous as he desires, who sours against his wife, his children and his friends when pecuniarily embarrassed, as though they would not do all the possible things in their power to rescue him from his troubles, is unworthy recognition as a man, and richly deserves as much contempt from the outside world as he entertains for himself at heart. If people would take things more generally as they find them, and forget not their GOD, either in prosperity or adversity, there would be few terrible crimes enacted "while laboring under temporary derangement."

NEW PUBLICATIONS.

PRE-HISTORIC NATIONS; or, Inquiries concerning some of the Great Peoples and Civilizations of Antiquity, and their Probable Relation to a Still Older Civilization of the Ethiopians or Cushites of Arabia. By John D. Baldwin, A. M. Published by Harper & Bros., New York.

Few books among late publications will call forth severer criticism than this work. No one will question the ability of the author, as the work indicates extensive reading, patient research, and much skill in elaborating historical facts, evidently, however, a little one-sided in order to promote a preconceived and favorite theory. Rarely has there been gathered into one volume such a magazine of historical facts, as are embodied in this history. Theologians and, indeed, educated persons generally in every department of life, will find much to interest them, as well as to impart instruction. Mr. Baldwin assumes the antiquity of the human race to be not less than eight or ten thousand years, with a succession of early civilizations and empires, and that the most ancient civilization was among the Cushites of Arabia, and thence spread to Egypt and Western Europe. However well fortified he may think he is, according to the line of argument pursued in the advocacy of his peculiar views, he has failed to prove satisfactorily that the accepted systems of biblical chronology are unworthy of eredence. The points raised in this work, involving the validity of the received Mosaic account, will doubtless receive the attention of those competent to analyze them thoroughly. The work, nevertheless, is a valuable acquisition to any library.

THE INDIAN PASS. By Alfred B. Street. Published by Hurd & Houghton, New York. For sale by R. S. Davis & Co., 193 Liberty street, Pittsburgh.

The author is a poet of decided merit, as his published works demonstrate. In this volume we have an account of his wanderings in Essex county, in the mountainous region of Northern New York. Common place as some of the things are in this narrative, the gorgeous language employed, and grouping together of interesting episodes, render the work vivacious and interesting. There is a poetic tinge running throngh the book, which lends a charm to the grandeur and wildness of the tramp in the grand old mountains. The lively sketches here and there, too, will add to the interest of the work.

BEFORE THE THRONE. Published by M W. Dodd, New York. For sale by R. S. Davis & Co., 193 Liberty street, Pittsburgh.

This little manual of daily devotions for a child, was prepared to help children to present their wants before the Throne of Grace. The arrangement is admirable, first a brief scriptural lesson, then the form of morning and evening prayer, and a hymn, for each day for a period of four weeks. The little volume is handsomely gotten up.

THE STUDY OF LANGUAGES BROUGHT BACK TO ITS TRUE PRINCIPLES, or the Art of Thinking in a Foreign Language. By C. Marcel, Kn't Leg. Hon. Published by D. Appleton & Co., New York.

The views of the author of this work are so clearly defined, and sensible, that they cannot fail to command respect. The high character, of this linguist is worthy of note. The art of thinking is discussed as the best and most successful mode of acquiring a forcign language in contra distinction to the usual way, by the eye instead of the ear. The design of the work is to provide a method for the mastery of a foreign language, by training the ear before an attempt is made to converse, following nature, as illustrated by the infant in the varied course of auriculory exercises, before the tongue is called into action. Persons who adhere to the method laid down in this work, will be able to acquire the knowledge of a foreign language with almost the facility of his native tongue. In a word, the ear is to be educated before the memory, thereby overcoming the difficulty of not understanding the spoken language, though able to read and speak it themselves with considerable fluency. It is a valuable work to those interested in the study of foreign languages.

THE PLANET; A Song of a Distant World. By Larry Best. Cambridge: Riverside Press. From Hurd & Houghton, New York. For sale by R. S. Davis & Co., Liberty street, Pittsburgh.

This poem presents the conflict between good and evil, or the state whither the Muse had conveyed the poet, the same as seen on earth—a majority being under the sway of evil influences, leaving but a remnant faithful and true. For the destruction of that remnant a plot is contrived by their enemies, the progress and result of which are recited. The author is certainly gifted with a glowing imagination, and however faulty the poem may be in construction, there are passages of poetic beauty and full of pathos.

THE BLESSED DEAD. By the Rev. Mr. Bickersteth, M. A., Author of "Yesterday, To-day and Forever." Published by Robert Carter & Bros., New York. For sale by S. A. Clarke & Co., 119 Wood street, Pittsburgh.

We have here described Hades and Heaven; or what does Scripture reveal of the estate and employments of the Blessed Dead and of the Risen Saints. Such a theme embodying two papers, on the topics named and published by request, in the hands of one so talented and capable, cannot fail to be intensely interesting to those aspiring after the good things to come.

THE GENERAL; OR TWELVE NIGHTS IN THE HUNTER'S CAMP. A Narrative of Real Life. Illustrated by G. G. White. Published by Lee & Shepard, Boston. For sale by R. S. Davis & Co., 193 Liberty street, Pittsburgh.

Stories of a matter-of-fact character embodying the truthful records of the actual life of a real person; are more substantial and interesting than works of pure fiction. The adventures of the General in the South, and on the frontier among the Indians, are graphically described, interspersed with incidents rich and rare. The lesson is very clearly taught that the difficulties and adventures of life may be successfully overcome by manly and persistent effort. Much valuable information also may be gleaned from these camp stories.

MY RECOLLECTIONS OF LORD BYRON. By the Countess Guiccioli. Published by Harper & Brothers, New York. For sale by Henry Miner, Pittsburgh.

We think few persons acquainted with the remarkable history of Lord Byron can read this work without having their sympathies awakened in his behalf, or having, at least, more charitable views of him. Gifted with wonderful powers of mind, high social position, wealth, fame, and beauty of countenance, he commanded the homage of the learned and the gifted. These "Recollections" of the Countess Guiccioli present the character of Lord Byron in the most favorable light possible, and many incidents of his wonderful career are more satisfactorially explained than in any previous account of him. We expect the work will have a wide sale, as it has long been desired by the reading public.

JOHN CAREY; OR, WHAT IS A CHRISTIAN? By A. L. O. E. JACK THE CONQUEROR; OR DIFFICULTIES OVERCOME. By C. E. Bowers. Published by Robert Carter & Brothers, New York. For sale by S. A. Clarke & Co., 119 Wood street, Pittsburgh.

Six simple but beautiful little stories are found in the first named, inculcating lessons of moral worth. The author is justly regarded as one of the best of writers for young people. Christian duty is vividly portrayed; the illustrations being taken from the lower walks of society. It is an excellent work for juvenile libraries. In "Jack the Conqueror" we have beautifully delineated the great truth that earnest persistent efforts, even by a child, may result in the accomplishment of great things. "Jack" held on unwaveringly amid checks and hindrances, and success finally crowned his efforts.

INCIDENTS OF THE UNIEED STATES CHRISTIAN COMMISSION. By Edward P. Smith, Field Secretary of the Commission. Published by J. B. Lippincott & Co. For sale by R. S. Davis & Co., 193 Liberty street, Pittsburgh.

This superb work is dedicated to the Christian Soldiers' and Sailors of the Union, who imperilled their lives to save our country. Many will peruse this memorial of the great war with tender interest, as there is scarcely a family but what has felt its effects. The incidents have been selected with the care and discriminating judgment of Mr. Smith, and represent every phase of the good work of the Christian Commission. The tender offices of kindness to our brave defenders are here related in graphic words, and cannot fail to thrill loyal hearts. The illustrations are in good taste, and in keeping with the text. The work is elegantly gotten up by the publishers.

APPLETON'S PUBLICATIONS.

D. APPLETON & Co., New York, have favored us with a copy of the complete poetical works of Thomas Campbell, with a memoir of his life, and an essay on his genius and writings. This stout volume of 328 pp., paper cover, forms one the series of the standard poets by this house, at the very low price of fifty cents per volume. It is surprising that so much valuable matter can be furnished at that rate. We have also received "Fair Maid of Perth," one of the Waverly Novel series, twenty-five cents, and "Snarleyou," one of Maryatt's Sea Tales, fifty cents. Attention has been frequently called to these serials.

MY TEN-ROD FARM.

LORING, of Boston, sends us "My Ten-Rod Farm; or, How I became a Florist." It is a capital thing, and shows how much may be accomplished by persistent efforts and good sense.

We have received from the newly established and elegant bookhouse of Messrs. S. A. Clarke & Co., No. 119 Wood street, the Lily series of juvenile books, by Mrs. Sherwood, published in New York by Robert Carter & Bros. These are prettily bound little volumes in red and gold, and are beautifully illustrated and printed. The subject matter of the books is all that could be desired, and in entertaining children must at the same time leave deep and holy impressions on their young minds.

Bessie among the mountains, a story book for the young, by Joanna H. Mathews; illustrated; New York: Robt. Carters & Brothers, publishers; Pittsburgh: for sale by S. A. Clarke & Co., No. 119 Wood street.

Little Freddie feeding his soul, a book for children of tender years, by Lay Putnam; New York: Robert Carter & Bros., publishers; Pittsburgh: for sale by S. A. Clarke & Co., 119 Wood street.

Aunt Mildred's Legacy, a book for the the young; by the author of "Battles Worth Fighting;" New York, Robert Carters & Brothers; Pittsburgh, for sale by S. A. Clarke & Co., Wood street.

All of these new publications are worthy of a place in the fireside library. They are splendid specimens of typographical workmanship, and are well illustrated.

The American Ecclesiastical and Educational Almanac for 1869, by Alex J. Schem. For sale by S. A. Clark & Co., 119 Wood street.

THE PIPE-TRANSPORTATION BUSINESS.

We reprint the resolutions adopted at a general meeting of the Petroleum Producers' Association of Pennsylvania, held at Oil City on the 31st ult.:

Resolved, That in chartering the Western Oil and Pipe Company as a close corporation with almost unlimited powers, against the remonstrances of a large portion of the citizens of the counties within which its operations are to be conducted, and against the protest of the recognized representatives of the oil producing interests; and in immediately thereafter refusing to pass a general act allowing the organization under judicious restrictions of companies for the transportation of oil by pipes, the Legislature of Pennsylvania has done a great wrong against one of the chief industries of the State.

Resolved, That Governor Geary, in signing the bill chartering the Western Oil and Pipe Company, in violation of his assurances to the Committee of this Association, and against the remonstrances made to him by twenty-five hundred citizens of the oil regions, has impaired our confidence in him as an upright and independent Executive.

Resolved, That the oil producers owe it to themselves to demonstrate that, while corrupt legislators may confer by charter privileges designed to give undue advantage to transporters of and speculators in petroleum, it is not in their power to make the producers subject to the control of any chartered corporation; and, therefore,

Resolved, That immediate steps be taken to secure a conveyance of the right of way over all the lands in the producing district to a Producers' Transportation Company, with the view of facilitating the construction of pipe lines in whatever direction and to whatever points may be necessary to break down or render harmless the existing and proposed monopoly of transportation.

Resolved, That a committee of fifteen be appointed to prepare a plan for the organization of a Producers' Transportation Company, and to report as soon as practicable to the Board of Managers of this association.

—The difficulty between the Governor and the Auditor of Louisiana has resulted in a conflict of authority between the fifth and seventh District Courts. Warmouth's appointee has been enjoined by the seventh District Court, and Auditor Wickliff's by the fifth. Wickliff was sentenced to prison for forty-eight hours for contempt, but was subsequently released on a writ of habeas corpus.

"SEE WHAT WORRY BRINGS A MAN TO."

This is the expressive title of a medical tract, by Surgeon Alfred Haviland, of London, in which he gives "a few words of advice on the danger of hurry and excitement, especially addressed to railway travelers." The author points out the particular circumstances, chiefly diseases of the heart, which render the sudden exertion, on a full stomach, of hurrying to be in time for the train, fatal in some cases, and seriously damaging to the weakened organs in others. Cases are adduced in confirmation of the positions laid down. "The old coaching time," when passengers could leisurely book their places, and take them quietly at the time of departure, if contrasted with the present time, when all classes enter the same train, and all alike hurry to one spot, with one object—to save the train. Following Mr. Haviland, we may say that everything is changed, even our bodies are changing, for all this striving to do certain distances in certain given times has engendered an irritability in our organs which has told upon thousands, and will tell upon thousands more. Many a brain and spinal cord have suffered from the vibratory motion of railway carriages, which sometimes lasts for days after a journey; a limb, the nerves of which have been weakened by disease, often retains a feeling of this motion for many hours after, and severe neuralgia has been known to be the sequel. The action of the heart is often quickened, and the organ becomes more sensitive in some individuals, especially those of a sanguine, nervous temperament. The stomach is not unfrequently upset in a manner similar to what was experienced on the road by some persons when they sit with their backs to the horses. All these things are, however, more or less inevitable, since we cannot do without railway traveling; but with proper knowledge many of the inconveniences resulting might be obviated. To this task the author applies himself, after stating that it would be desirable to know, as a statistical fact, the number of persons who have fallen dead while hurrying to the train. Whether a person be diseased or not, one caution must always be remembered—never to exert yourself when the stomach is full. "If there is an organ in the body that is more intolerant than any other of hurry and bustle, it is the stomach. Man is the only animal that really treats it badly." The heart and brain participate in the healthy action of the stomach by good digestion; they suffer, also, by its irregularities and disorders. Constant irritation of the heart by an abuse of the functions of the stomach, is liable to produce cardiac disease, and with this state diminished ability to encounter the strain of sudden exertion or the fatigue from prolonged exercise. Reference is made to the periodity of the functions of the chief organs—stomach, heart, lungs and brain, and the necessity of giving each its full period of repose. The brain is the only one of those organs that can enjoy actual and entire rest, as in sleep; with the others there is merely diminished exercise or strain, an opportunity for obtaining which ought to be carefully and regularly allowed. The heart, indeed, cannot stop its beats, nor the lungs their breathing, but both of them can be made to enjoy relaxation in sleep in a recumbent posture.

Much stress is laid on the traveler's meals, and the advice is iterated, that people should never hurry themselves at their meals or before a meal—the very anticipation of being pushed for time is adverse to the enjoyment of a meal as well as to its digestion. But what can a traveler do on a railroad, in the way of carrying out hygenic precepts, unless railway directors and superintendents have some bowels of compassion, and allow a reasonable time for the now victim travelers to take their meals without haste and confusion. On many of our great American railways there have been great reforms in this particular. The applicable advice on the present occasion is, however, to those persons who ride from their places of residence to the city for the transaction of business. "A late dinner or a high tea is better than supper." Soon after 9 o'clock the weak time of the heart begins, and hence it ought to be saved from the additional excitement and irritation that would be caused by a full stomach and alcoholic stimulats at or near this hour. Persons suffering from retarded and irregular action of the heart ought, at all times, to avoid taking much fluid with their meals, or between them. Referring to malt liquors M. Haviland tells us: "In fact there is hardly such a thing to be obtained as a general rule," and again, he is, of course, speaking of English brews, "Much of the so-called malt liquor of the present day is a disgrace to a beer drinking country, and is productive of much stomach derangement." In many persons smoking immediately after a meal retards, we are told, digestion, and in some suspends it altogether.

The last part of this tract is given to an inquiry into the statistics, "Geographical Distribution of Heart Diseases in England, Wales, and the Hour of Death." The deaths from this disease in a mean population of nineteen millions, was over 230,000 in ten years.

Ventilation of Rooms.

A subscriber, Mr. S. W. Powell, of Chicago, Ill., writes to the Hearth and Home as follows: "Can thorough ventilation be had at small cost? With open stoves, yes; with close stoves, no. In the latter case, exhaustion at the floor level is necessary, and unless this is provided for when the house is built, it is costly, and not easy to get at any price. But with an open stove there is no trouble. In my room such a stove, burning soft coal, is placed in the corner, facing diagonally toward the centre of the apartment. The back is covered with a sheet-iron jacket, closed below at the sides, but open above. Into the bottom of this comes a five-inch pipe from the lower left hand corner of the window. I took out a pane of glass, filled its place with a board, through which passes the pipe. The space between the stove and the sheet-iron jacket is thus filled with warm fresh air, and pours it into the room. The open stove exhausts from the lower part of the stove where the carbonic acid lies. Windows and doors can be tight—the more so the better. By a deep dish fitting into a hole at the top, I get several quarts of evaporation daily. The whole cost was some five dollars, and I think that amount will be saved in fuel in one season. This plan will work anywhere, and with me works perfectly. The advantage of radiant over conduct heat is very great."

The Pacific Railway Controversy.

The distance on the Pacific Railroad, from Omaha to Sacramento, is one thousand seven hundred and sixty miles. The Omaha line is, to-day, one thousand and fifty-six and a half miles west of Omaha. The Sacramento line is five hundred and ninety-four miles east of that city, leaving a gap, to-day, of one hundred and ten miles. There is now a contest going on here between the two companies, as to where the the two roads shall meet. The California end is desirous of having the junction at Ogden, one hundred and twenty-nine miles from Omaha, but the Omaha, or Eastern line, to-day crossed Bear river, with their engine and track, thirty-one miles west of Ogden, and will reach Monument point before the California end come up. This is one thousand one hundred and five miles from Omaha. It is to induce the Eastern line to stop building, and await the arrival of the Western rail, that the contest is now going on. But, President Grant and his Cabinet have decided that the Omaha line shall go on until it meets the other.

UNDER the laws of Pennsylvania in reference to hawking and peddling, it has recently been decided by the Supreme Court, that manufactured articles mean wares made in foreign countries, and do not include wares manufactured in the United States, but out of Pennsylvania. The acts since 1820 against peddling without license were intended to embrace both foreign and domestic goods, exempting, however, from their operations, citizens of Pennsylvania peddling goods of their own manufacture. But in the act of April 16th, 1840, the word "domestic" was dropped inadvertently, it is asserted, since the consequently useless and unmeaning provision is retained, which allows citizens of Pennsylvania without license to peddle goods of their own make. However this may be, it was decided that the many acts on the subject being interpreted so as to form a complete system, the word "foreign" should receive the construction mentioned above. And the Court held that it was not necessary to take out a license to peddle in Pennsylvania goods made in any other State of the United States.

HALF the Indian wars spring from treaty breaking and knavish dealing on our part, usually the fruit of our vicious Indian Bureau system. Nor is this all. The expense of the Bureau is great, and the agents are never economical. Gen. Hazen, writing to Gen. Garfield from Fort Cobb last January, declared that his own expenses were not over a third of those of the Indian Bureau for the same articles. At that time he was feeding the Indians collected about the fort from all quarters. Beef cost him three cents per pound, while the Bureau paid Perry Fuller nine, and there were parties waiting to contract for three. Four hundred and fifty stock cattle (utterly unfit they were, by the way, for their use) were bought for the Comanches by the Bureau at six times the price at which they could be had anywhere. The Government must have lost over $10,000 on this single small item. And so on with everything else.—N. Y. Times.

A SIGNIFICANT LETTER.

LOUISVILLE, March 22d, 1869.—Find enclosed P. O. order for * * * which you will please place to my credit, and send immediately half a gross of Blood Searcher, and a full supply of circulars.

The demand for your medicine is gradually increasing, and I believe will eventually take the place of other similar preparations, now being extensively advertised throughout Kentucky and the Southern States, but there is little advertising needed that will reach the masses. Circulars will do very well in the locality where the Blood Searcher is sold, but the greater number are only to be reached through the medium of a popular newspaper, a few insertions is all that is required. Let the people of Kentucky once know that DR. KEYSER'S BLOOD SEARCHER can be had at the Medicine and Toilet Depot, Louisville, Kentucky, and I guarantee a profitable return. I have an extensive acquaintance throughout Kentucky and the South, and though I claim not to be an exception to the generality of my fellows, I flatter myself that the name of W. W. WILLIAMS, as Agent for the Blood Searcher, will at least not lessen the demand, but on the contrary, will induce many to take hold of it, and when they have done so it will matter very little who is the Agent, or where it comes from, DR. KEYSER'S BLOOD SEARCHER will be the medicine they have tested and what they will want. The Blood Searcher is doing good work in this locality. There are numbers to whom I have recommended it for dyspepsia, and as a general Tonic, and in every case I have had a good report. There is a gentleman in business opposite my store who has been confined to his room since July last with scrofula, a physician attending every day, and getting no better. Soon after I received your first consignment I sent him one of your circulars, but it was some etime before I heard from him, and not until I sent Mr. Boyd over to see him did he conclude to try it. He is now getting well, and regrets that he did not adopt the remedy sooner. His case was as bad if not worse than that of Mr. Boyd, and will prove a valuable acquisition to the list of cures. Allow me to congratulate you on your removal to your new store, with the hope that it it will in no way detract from your former prosperity. Respectfully,

W. W. WILLIAMS.

To DR. KEYSER, Pittsburgh, Pa.

THE TRUE MEDICAL DOCTRINE.

Nature, when struggling with disease, indicates unmistakably the kind of assistance she requires. In cases of nervous weakness and general debility, the feeble pulse, the lack-lustre eye, the attenuated frame, the flaccid muscles, the melancholy visage, inform us as plainly as if each organ had a tongue, that a medicated stimulant is needed. It does not require the aid of a medical education to understand this dumb appeal for new vigor, from an exhausted system. Every reader of these lines can comprehend it just as well as the graduate of a physicians' college. Let not this demand of enfeebled natur be neglected. Respond to it promptly by commencing a course of HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS, a preparation uniting, in their highest excellence, the properties of a STIMULANT, an INVIGORANT, and an ALTERATIVE. Before three days have elapsed, from the taking of the first dose, a marked beneficial change will be manifest in the bodily and mental condition of the patient. The pulse will be stronger and more regular, the eye will begin to lose its dull expression, the muscular and nervous systems to recover their tension, and the spirits to improve. Persevere, and a complete revivification of the depressed animal and mental powers is certain. In cases of dy pepsia and billiousness, the same salutary results will be obtained. The appetite will revive, the sallowness of the skin disappear, and all the distressing symptoms which accompany d'sorders of the stomach and liver, will rapidly subside. The sudden changes of spring often intensifies the e complaints by checking the perspiratory action, by which so much morbid matter is evaporated through the pores of the body, and therefore the BITTERS are especially useful to the dyspeptic and billous at this season.

OFFICE OF THE TREASURER OF ALLEGHENY COUNTY, Pittsburgh, April 1st, 1869.

IN PURSUANCE OF THE 21st section of an Act relating to Allegheny County, approved the 1st day of May, 1861, and of the amendment to said section, approved the 30th day of March, 1866, I do hereby give notice that the Duplicates for the several Wards, Boroughs and Townships WILL BE OPEN, and I will be prepared to receive the County, State, Poor, Workhouse and Improvement Taxes for 1869.

On and after the 1st day of May, 1869, Said taxes can be paid at this Office until the 1st day of August with a DEDUCTION OF FIVE PER CENT. for prompt payment to all persons paying the whole amount of their taxes.

There will be no deduction allowed during the month of August. There will be

Ten Per Cent. Added

To all taxes remaining unpaid on the 1st day of September, 1869.

J. F. DENNISTON,
ap2:F Treasurer of Allegheny County.

BY VIRTUE OF AN ORDER OF the Orphans Court of Allegheny county, made the 20th day of March, A. D. 1869, at No. 1, June Term, 1868, there will be exposed to public sale on the premises, on WEDNESDAY, the 12th day of May, A. D. 1869, at 10 o'clock A. M., in such parcels, purparts, or sub-divisions as will, in the judgment of the undersigned, be most for the benefit and advantage of the estate, all that certain messuage or tract of land situate in Findley township, in said county, and bounded by lands of Peter and Charles Aten, Henry Weaver, heirs of Jeremiah Morgan, deceased, and others, containing 287 acres, 1 rood and 33 perches, neat measure, as appears by plot of survey filed to said number and term, late the estate of Daniel Morgan, of said township, deceased.

This is a very desirable property, and, all things considered, it is believed to present a rare opportunity to purchasers. It is gently rolling, with no waste land upon it. The soil is good and diversified, being adapted to the production of the various grains, grapes and fruits, which flourish in this climate. The water is excellent, well distributed and abundant, consisting of numerous never failing springs, perennial rivulets flowing thereupon. About one-half thereof is forest, covered with stately white oak timber, which for quantity and quality, it is believed, is not surpassed in the country. There is a five feet vein of good bituminous coal underlying several acres. The improved land is in reasonable repair in a good state of cultivation, and includes a valuable apple orchard. The buildings are not costly, but convenient. It lies adjoining the spirited village of Clinton, and is convenient to churches, schools, mills and the various mechanics useful to farmers. To the agriculturist, the cattle grazier, the wool grower and the lumber man, (and even the horticulturist and fruit grower prospectively in these railroad times) here is an opportunity which demands attention.

TERMS.—One-third of the purchase money to be paid cash; one-third in one year and one third in two years from the day of the sale, with interest; the two deferred payments with their interest to be secured by bond and mortgage on the premises.

THE NEW METHOD FOR THE PIANO FORTE, by WILLIAM MASON, (the distinguished pianist,) and E. S. HOADLY, is a great improvement upon all previous works, and is unanimously recommended as such by the best teachers. It preserves what was valuable in previous books, and adds many new features. It is the only modern Piano Forte Instructor published, presenting the technics of modern Piano Forte playing. It is easier to teach and learn from, and secures more rapid and thorough progress than any other book. No teacher of the Piano Forte can afford to do without it's said. It is the best book for beginners and the best for those who have made progress. Price $4. To facilitate its examination by teachers, we will, until July 1st, send a single copy to any teacher of the Piano Forte, by mail, postage paid, for half price, two dollars. FINANCE AND TRADE.

The gold market was strong to-day and advanced from 131⅛ to 131¾, with a firm undertone, despite the high rate of interest paid for money. The steadily decreasing belance of coin in the banks and on the market, and the increasing demand for coin to pay duty, will soon have exhausted the supply now on the market, even before May next. Importers and speculators on the bear side are counting on the Secretary of the Treasury to supply the needful, either by sales, or by anticipatiug the May interest. If the tendency is actually a rising one, it is needless to say that any gold will be sold, according to the reported determination of Secretary Boutwell. Rumors are constantly put afloat that gold is coming from Europe, but if it is true, the return shipments must be still larger, as it is well known that our trade balance is unfavorable and coin is only shipped to enable some of the foreign bankers to get their bonds to Europe, which they are at present unable to do, finding it impossible to sell their exchange.

Government bonds were firmer this morning, but declined at noon about ¼ per cent. The high rate of interest will eventually force large amounts of bonds on the market held by speculators.

The stock market was well sustained and rates advanced on yesterday's quotations. Nearly all the western shares are higher. On local and Express stocks little is doing.

Money commands from 15 to 18 per cent. in some instances, and 12 per cent. is the ordinary rate.

Quotations as received by Ph. R. Mertz: Gold, 131½; Silver, 125; Eighty-one's, 115¼; Five Twenties, 1862, 118, do 1864, 113⅞; do 1865, 115⅞; do 1865, Consols, 112⅝; do 1867, 112⅞; do 1868, 113; Ten Forties, 105½; New York Central, 61½; Erie, ——; Reading, 91⅝; Pittsburgh, Fort Wayne & Chicago Railroad, 124¼; Ohio & Mississippi, 32½; Michigan Southern, 96⅝; Cleveland & Pittsburgh, 89⅜; Chicago & Rock Island, 125¼; Chicago & North Western, 84⅜; Chicago & North Western Preferred, 94; Adams Express Company, 58; Merchants Union Express, ——; Pacific Mail, 89⅜; Western Union Telegraph Company, 89½; Gregory, 2,60; Quartz Hill, 92; Corydon, —; Smith & Parmlee, 1,85; W. [By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

NEW YORK, April 1, 1869.

Money stringency was very severe to-day. Call loans, 8@9 per cent. gold, and 7 per cent. currency, with commissions of 1-16@⅜ per cent. Many bank accounts were not made up until after four o'clock. The stringency occasioned a general yielding of prices in the Stock Exchange. The banks are presenting their three per cent. certificates for redemption, and to-day one institution drew from the Sub-Treasury half a million in greenback currency. The balance there, at the close, was about $8,000,000.

Sterling dull; prime bankers' bills, 7⅜ @7⅝.

Gold firm, in response to the advance to 4 per cent. of rate of discount and Washington telegrams (probably fictitious) of a break in the Cabinet and Cuban recognition. Prices opened at 131⅜, advanced to 131¾, and closed at 131⅝. The rates paid for carrying varied from 1 to 7 per cent. and 1-16 per cent. to flat. Export to-day: to Europe, $47,000; to Havana, $168,000; clearance to-day, $88,000,000.

Governments were dull, but steady, most of the day, and became heavy and declined at the close on the high rates paid for money. Coupons of '81, 115¼@115½; do. '62, 117⅜@118; do. '64, 113¾@114; do. '65, 115⅜@116; new do., 112¾@112⅞; do. '67, 112¾@112⅞; do. '68, 112¾@112⅞; 10-40s, 105@105⅛; Pacific Sixes, 104¼@104½.

State bonds lower: Missouris, 87@87½; Old Tennessees, 65⅝@66; New do., 63¾@64¼; North Carolinas, 54½@54¾. Stock market steady during the morning, except Rock Island and Fort Wayne, which declined. Northwestern and St. Paul advanced; in the afternoon the market was excited and unsettled, with a general decline on rate, money stringency being the cause.

5-30 Prices—Cumberland, 36¾; Wells Express, 31½; American, 40¼; Adams, 57@58; Merchants Union, 15¼@15¾; United States, 56; Quicksilver, 20@20¼; Canton, 59; Pacific Mail, 88¾@89; Western Union 39¼@39⅝; Mariposa, 18⅝@18; preferred, 34½@34⅝; N. Northwestern, 83¼@83⅜; do. preferred, 93¼@93¾; Chicago and Alton, 150; Lake Shore, 91.

Copper stocks at Boston: Copper Falls 8¼; Franklin 16; Hecla 75; Hancock 4; Minnesota 2; Quincey 25.

Receipts of the Sub-Treasury were $779,875; Payments $2,237,72; Balance $86,237,601.

PETROLEUM MARKET.

The oil market, although firmer, was quiet to-dav, and there was little or nothing done, the volume of business being unusually light. Compared with yesterday, prices were fully sustained, with a reported sale of 20,000 bbls in New York at 32 cts on spot. Furthermore, it was reported that these 20,000 bbls were taken for export, which is regarded as a favorable omen for those who are interested in high prices, and it is possible that this operation had something to do with stiffening the market. The foreign advices, however, are by no means favorable, Antwerp being quoted down to 53 frances, while the stocks in in some of the foreign ports are reported unusually large. We noticed yesterday that there was a rumor current of a party having refused to take 10,000 bbls of oil in Philadelphia, the time of delivery having expired with the last day of March. It is said to-day that the party referred to disclaims having authorized any one to buy said, oil, and, if so, he cannot be censured for refusing to take it. If the contracts were accepted by him, that is an end to it; and if not, the sellers should have seen before this that they were accepted.

CRUDE—Market, as already noted was very quiet to-day, while prices, compared with yesterday, have undergone no change. Sale 250 bbls at 15 and 1,000 bbls at $6 per bbl at Oil City. Quotations for spot or April, sellers option, may be given at 15@15½, July to December, 17¼.

REFINED—The market for Refined was also very quiet to-day though firm, and compared with yesterday prices were a shade better. April, 1st half, 31; last half 32½; April and May 33½; April to July 34½, asked, 34¼ bid; May to September, 36; and April to September 35. Sale—last night —500 each April to September at 34½ for the first and 35 for the remaining months and 1,500 last half April at 32½.

Dry Goods Market.

NEW YORK, April 1.—The dry goods market remains inactive yet steady for most grades of staple goods. We quote heavy brown Sheetings at 15½@16½c for common to extra. Printing Cloths, 17½@18c for common to extra. Best Madder Prints are held at 11½@12½c. Mous Delaines, 18@20c. New York Mills Muslins, 27½c; Wamsutta, 25c; Tuscarawa, 22c; Masonville, 18½c, and Red Bank, 12½c. Colored Cottons are in limited demand at unchanged prices.

P. S.—Since writing the above we learn that Amoskeag prints have been advanced to 11¾c, while American has been reduced to 11¾c. Trade, on the whole, is dull and unsatisfactory. Yesterday was truly a bad day, for it is painful to learn of the suspension of one of the first houses among the trade, whose credit stood A at home and abroad for forty years; we refer to the firm of L. & B. Curtis & Co.

Live Stock Markets.

CINCINNATI, April 1.—Cattle Market—Beef Cattle dull and unchanged. Sheep very dull and prices drooping, at $3,50@6,50 per cental the whole range. Hogs dull at $8@10,25, gross.

CHICAGO, April 1.—Cattle Market.—Live hogs dull and 10@15c lower; sales at $9,59@10.75 for common to choice. Beef cattle dull at $5,00@7,62½c for cows to choice shipping steers.

CINCINNATI, April 1.—Flour and grain unchanged and quiet. Cotton dull, but prices nominally unchanged. Whisky dull at 90@91c. Tobacco firm at full rates; sales of 194 hhds. Provisions unchanged and quiet; not much done; prices nominally unchanged; prime city lard sold at 18c, but this was forced sale. Butter firm, with a light supply, at 40@45c. Eggs dull at 18@19c. Sugar firm and in fair demand, at 14@16c for North Carolina. Linseed Oil held firmly at $1,05. Lard Oil $1,55. Gold 131¼, buying. Money market stringent at 10@12 per cent. Exchange quiet at par buying.

BALTIMORE, April 1.—Flour quiet. Wheat firm; sales good to prime red at $2,10@2,25. Corn firm; receipts were small; white 85@86c; yellow is unchanged. Oats dull at 60@65c for good light. Rye nominal. Mess Pork is firm at $32,50. Bacon firm; rib sides 16¾c; clear sides 17¾@18c; shoulders 14¾@15c. Hams 20@21c. Lard firm. Whisky is firm and scarce; sales at 93c.

PHILADELPHIA, April 1.—Flour less active, and unchanged. Wheat quiet; red at $1,60@1,65; amber at $1,70@1,80, white at $1,80@1,90. Rye, $1,40. Corn dull and lower; western at 81c; yellow at 85c. Petroleum quiet and unchanged. Oats, Groceries and Provisions unchaned. Whisky firm, $1,00.

DETROIT, April 1.—Wheat firm; extra white $1,75; No. 1 do. $1,55@1,56; No. 2 $1,35; No. 1 amber $1,42. Corn advanced to 72c, with fair demand. Mill Stuff—bran scarce at $2,00; coarse middlings quiet at 22c.

KANSAS FILLING UP.

[Correspondence Pittsburgh Gazett .]

PERRY, KANSAS, March 26, 1869.

Probably none of our new States ever filled up so rapidly with population as Kansas is now filling. Men are coming in continually, and running to and fro looking for locations for permanent homes. The Pottowattomie reservation, (that was) a splendid body of land thirty miles square, has been purchased by the Atchison and Pike's Peak Railroad Company, and was thrown open to purchasers last week. The Kansas Pacific Railway (formerly known as the Union Pacific Railroad, E. D.) runs directly across this reservation from east to west, while the Atchison and Pike's Peak Railroad crosses the Kansas river at Topeka, a short distance from its eastern border. Some of that land, yet in a state of nature, is appraised as high as twenty-five dollars per acre.

The Atchison and Pike's Peak Railroad begins at Atchison, on the Missouri river, some twenty miles above Leavenworth, and runs in a southwesterly direction to Topeka, where it crosses to the south side of the river, and thence bears off in the same direction indefinitely. The bridge at Topeka is nearly finished, and they are pushing the work on the south side vigorously. No work has yet been done between Atchison and Topeka, and for a while this road will be but a southwest branch of the great Kansas Pacific Railroad, with which it will form a junction at North Topeka.

The country south and west of Topeka, which this road will traverse, is for many miles one of great fertility and beauty, and already pretty well settled. About eighteen miles south of Topeka it reaches the first vein of coal, which is rather thin and the coal of inferior quality. Still it is at present worked to a considerable extent, and some of the coal is hauled in wagons to Topeka. It is used by blacksmiths, and to some extent in stoves. It burns freely and makes hot fires. But when the road shall be made some thirty miles from Topeka it will reach a six foot vein of coal, of a quality greatly superior to the other. When the coal mines of this State shall be fairly developed, and railways constructed to them, as they soon will be, I see no reason why manufacturing industry may not be extensively prosecuted. The distance of this region from the principal seats of manufactures in the eastern States and in Europe will operate as a permanent protective tariff. Wool may be grown here to any extent, and here, better than anywhere else, it may be manufactured. I do not believe that this region is so well adapted to the fabrication of cotton, as the atmosphere is too dry.

Beyond Fort Harker, say about one hundred and seventy miles west of this point, or two hundred and twenty miles west of the Mississippi river, settlement for agricultural purposes will cease; but beyond that, for hundreds of miles, stretches a magnificent pasture, where millions of cattle and sheep may be raised at very little cost. That pastoral region, together with the still more extensive mineral region beyond it, will give to this arable portion of Kansas—which has an area of about 40,000 square miles—a good and enduring market. Out here, therefore, the order of things to which we are accustomed is reversed—the further a man goes west the nearer he is to market. Hence it is that the Potowatomie lands, which lie from fifteen to forty-five miles west of this, are held at so high figure. The effect of all this will be, that population, unable to roll its wave much further, will PACK, and this eastern half of Kansas, which is just about as large as the entire State of Ohio, is likely ere long to become one of the most densely populated parts of our country. Its fertility, salubrity and central position, its unrivaled beauty of scene—valleys, bluffs, swells, knolls and perpetual alterations of wood and prairie, mark it as the home of very numerous small but thrifty proprietors.

Moreover this State is directly on the line of the great thoroughfare between the Atlantic and Pacific slopes of the continent. This is just as sure as that this line passes through a region mild and snowless, and rich in pastoral and mineral wealth, while its almost completed rival on the north traverses a country which, for twelve or fifteen hundred miles, is unfit for settlement, destitute of resources of any kind, a region of tremendous snow drifts, which, in defiance of human power, will cause an annual interruption of all traffic. This Kansas road will soon be pushed on to Denver—that part between Cheyenne, Wells and Denver being considered a branch. By the time that is accomplished, the superiority of this route will be so universally felt and acknowledged, that the main line will be sure to go on under some auspices. C.

Washington Items.

The Kansas Pacific Railroad announce that they will build to Denver Ciry this summer, without any subsidy.

The entire mass of applications for situations under the Government, Ministers, Consuls, &c., have been classified and arranged at the State Department, and placed in regular order according to the weight of recommendations appended to each. The appointments will be made from them, so as to give the several States their due proportion of them. All due regard is being paid to the strength of the Department in all cases.

General Sherman to-day sent a telegraphic order to General Stoneman, relieving him from duty in Virginia, and directing him to turn over the command to tho official next in rank, who was ordered to re-instate Wells as Governor of Virginia, of which office the latter had been virtually deprived by the order of Stoneman assuming the duties of the Governor of the State.

A GREAT MANY PEOPLE are about to pack up and go to Florida, so glowing are the accounts of the remarkable productiveness of that State. A writer in Fernandina says, "if a northern man could live in Florida, year in and year out, he could make it pay to go into the sweet potato and early vegetable business; but a congested liver, or chills and fever, or both, will commonly be the penalty of a protracted residence in Florida. The old residents have the sallow, bad look, which the climate in summer and the bad water are so certain to produce. A man who can spend every summer at the north, may get along nicely; but that is not the way to farm it."

CLIPPINGS.

THE Secretary of the Navy, it is said, has determined to recommend the repeal of the eight-hour law in the Government workshops.

IT HAS been decided in a New York Court of Common Pleas that divorces of persons married in that State, granted in Illinois, are valid.

THE Chicago Rolling Mill Company has recently determined to commence the manufacture of pig iron at their mills in that city. They have now under contract three blast furnaces capable of manufacturing 125 tons of pig metal daily. The ore which will be worked into pig metal is taken from about forty miles northwest of Milwaukee, and from the shores of Lake Superior.

THE increase in the number of horses in the United States since 1860 is estimated at 1,750,000, or 25 per cent. The whole number is now said to be about 8,000,000, valued at $2,666,000,000, or something more than the whole national debt. Ohio, Illinois, Indiana, New York, Pennsylvania, Missouri, Kentucky and Texas are the great horse-raising States in the order in which we have given them. California, however, has increased her stock in a greater ratio than any other, namely, from 160,610 to 509,000 since 1860.

LOUISA MUEHLBACH writes every day enough to fill a whole printed sheet. She begins at 8 in the morning and stops at 4 in the afternoon. In the evening she receives her literary friends in her sumptuously furnished salon, or attends a performance at the theatre, where her good-looking and talented daughter Theodora is playing. Despite the large copyrights which the authoress of "Joseph the Second" and "Louisa of Prussia" has received for her works, she has not saved any money, and is still writing for her daily bread.

A WOMAN with a child entered a photographic gallery in Newburgh, N. Y., the other day, and previous to placing it for a picture the woman subjected the child to a vigorous spanking. The artist interfered, when he was informed that she was only trying to get up a fine color on the child's face, in order that it might be represented in the picture with blooming cheeks. She was considerably surprised to learn that the matter of color in a photograph was quite an after consideration; that the machine to take colors just as they stood was not yet invented.

OF LAMARTINE it is said that the original manuscripts of all his works are in the possession of his family, and throughout the whole of the immense collection of manuscripts scarcely an erasure or correction is to be found. This is specially observable in the case of his volumes of the "History of the Girondins," each volume of which costs the editor £4,000. In his dress he retained the old fashions of his youth, and always wore the narrow coat and tight trousers which were worn in the palmy days when the cut of Count d'Orsay's coat was the model of all well dressed bipeds.

STRANGE FREAK OF A MANIAC.—A young man named Dichenor, in Vernon township, Sussex county, went crazy last week, and while in that condition seized a double-barreled shot gun, with which he compelled his father and the other two members of the family to crouch in a corner of the room for two days. He fired at them frequently, aiming as closely as possible without hitting, the shot sometimes striking the walls within six inches of their heads. He threatened if they moved or cried out he would blow their brains out. He had plenty of ammunition, and kept one barrel loaded all the time, firing from each alternately. Finally he was disarmed by a neighbor, and is now safe in an asylum—Trenton (N. J.) Gazette. March 14.

THE last extravagance and the latest mode is a costume with three skirts. The first trains behind for home wear, and is gathered up tor walking; it is decorated with a series of narrow flounces, trimmed or not trimmed as you will; the second jupe reaches to the knee, furbelowed like the first, and gathered up here and there by bows; the third, which falls but little below the waist, give to the costume the appearance of a skirt with basquine, and is intended to be worn for street attire without the addition of any wrapping. As many yards of material as can be gathered and puckered up and flounced over the petticoat, so much the better for the fashion and for the mantuamaker.—Paris Correspondent.

ARRANGEMENTS were completed on Saturday, on behalf of the Erie Railroad Company, and the Michigan Southern and Northern Indiana Railroad Company for a thorough broad gauge transit to Chicago. The latter company offered the Erie a lease of the right to run their cars over the Michigan Southern line until October 10th, 1869, with the privilege of a renewal of the right after that date at option, on condition that the Erie would construct a road from Akron to Toledo, Ohio, a distance of ninety miles. The conditions were assented to and the survey of the proposed new link will be commenced immediately, thus securing the unbroken broad gauge line to the metropolis of the West. This connection was previously aimed at and the agreement entered into, but was restrained by an injunction in the Schell suit, granted by the Supreme Court. This suit has since been compromised.

A TRAVELER just from the end of the Pacific Railroad track, relates this little incident which he witnessed in the train while en route: The conductor approached a rough looking customer who was making himself very comfortable in one of the seats, and informed him that he wanted the fare. "The h—ll you do!" was the reply, as the scaly looking passenger faced the officer of the road with a fierce look. The latter, nothing daunted, still insisted on seeing a ticket or a "pass." The fellow replied that he would show his "pass," and immediately produced a revolver and leveled it on the collector of tickets. At this moment another huge, rough looking fellow, who had witnessed the proceedings, coolly pulled out a "navy," and placing it at the head of the belligerent passenger, deliberately informed him that he must "shell out" his railroad fare or have a bullet through his brain. The latter dropped his pistol, (the conductor picked it up,) pulled out his wallet and forked over the requisite amount of money. The railroad official received the stamps, counted them, handed back the revolver, and bowing politely, passed on, while the belligerent individual threw himself back on his seat and commenced whistling "The girl I left behind me," beating time with his finger on the seat in front. The people out that way have their "little peculiarities."

FOR SHERIFF.

WILLIAM A. HERRON,

Will be a candidate for the office of Sheriff, subject to the decision of the Union Republican County Convention. mh25:g19-d&F

TO THE CITIZENS OF ALLEGHENY COUNTY: I respectfully announce myself as a candidate for the office of CLERK OF COURTS, subject to the decision of the Union Republican County Convention. I would state that I ask the office but for ONE TERM, at the termination of which I would cheerfully retire, believing that there are others equally entitled to the honor and emoluments of the office, and as competent as myself. I will be under obligations to the citizens of the county for their support. Very respectfully,

The Market Committee of City Councils meets to-night.

The Survey Committee of City Councils will meet this afternoon.

The Allegheny Police received their monthly pay yesterday.

Work will be resumed for the season on the Allegheny Park Monday next.

The lockup contained twenty inmates this morning at one o'clock.

The Committee on Wooden Buildings of the City Councils, failed to have a meeting last night, no quorum being present.

The County Teachers Institute will adjourn to-day. This session of the Institute has been one of unusual pleasure and profit to all in attendance.

Drunkenness seems to be the prevailing method of breaking the law in Allegheny. There were five cases before Mayor Drum yesterday morning. Fortunately they were all supplied with the funds to pay the fines imposed, which secured their freedom.

Another Teamster was fined by Mayor Drum yesterday, for driving over the sidewalk. There seems to be a contest between the teamsters and the city authorities regarding the enforcement of this ordinance. Thus far, however, the officers have the best of it.

The Fire Alarm Extension.—The gong for the alarm bell in the Twenty-third ward, and the wire for the purpose of connecting it with the central office, have been received. The necessary apparatus will arrive soon, when the connections will be made and the extenson completed.

Teachers Elected.—The School Board of the Sixth Ward, (Forbes District), last evening, elected as teachers Miss Cornelia J. Randolph, for Ann street house, and Miss Eliza McNeely, for Second street house. The election was for vacancies caused by the resignation of Miss Mattie E. Sloss and Mrs. Verbena Burns.

Cowardly Amusement.—Some persons, unknown, amused themselves, Wednesday evening, by throwing stones into the dry goods store of Mr. James Gosling, located at the corner of Cedar avenue and Ohio street, Allegheny. Four large panes of glass in the show cases were smashed by the missiles. The offenders escaped detection.

Completed.—The wagon for the use of the Allegheny Fire Department has been completed and accepted by the Committee. It was built by Messrs. Forrester, Coleman & Knoch, at a cost of three hundred and twenty-five dollars This is the second wagon built for the purpose, the first one (built by another firm) being rejected.

Serious Fall.—Yestsrday morning Mr. Thomas Scott, carpenter, while engaged in building a scaffolding around the second story windows of a house on East Lane, Fourth ward, Allegheny, missed his footing and fell to the ground, receiving, it is feared, serious internal injuries. He was removed to his home on Washington street, Sixth ward, Allegheny, and medical attention procured.

Hit with a Brick.—C. Lenkhardt made information yesterday before Alderman Taylor, against Belchazzar Rudolph, for assault and battery. The prosecutor keeps a variety store near Etna street, Ninth ward. He alleges Rudolph came into the store, and after raising a row, ended it by striking him on the head with a brick. The accused was arrested but finally compromised the affair by paying the costs, when the suit was withdrawn.

The Fire Department.—The Committee on Engines and Hose, met last evening in the City Building. After some discussion they decided to recommend an appropriation of five hundred dollars for the benefit of the Rescue Hook and Ladder Company, and also to recommend the purchase of a pair of horses for the Niagara Engine in place of the old animals which will be sold. The Committee then adjourned.

Attempted Escape.—Yesterday afternoon about one o'clock, one of the convicts imprisoned in the Western Penitentiary, made a desperate attempt to escape, and had reached the top of the outer wall, when he was discovered and secured by the watchman. Had the wall been lower, he would, doubless, have been successful, as only the few minutes delay in reconnoitering how to get down proved fatal to his hopes of freedom.

Repairing.—For some time past one of the lamps at the Pittsburgh side of the St. Clair Street Bridge has failed to be of any service. Workmen were engaged yesterday in investigating the cause and for this purpose dug down to the pipe leading from the gas metre to the lamp. They discovered the pipe at the joint entering into the gas post to be full of water, which flowed from the metre. The inclination of the pipe was changed and the difficulty thus remedied.

Malicious Mischief.—Robert Burke made information before Alderman McMasters yesterday against a boy, name unknown, for malicious mischief. The prosecutor is proprietor of a photograph gallery, located in the Dispatch building. He alleges the boy, who is employed in the vicinity, broke the sky-light of his establishment and threw dirty water into the rooms, thereby damaging the goods inside to a great extent. A warrant was issued for the arrest of the boy.

Allegheny Mayor's Office.—During the month of March, just ended, the following cases were disposed of at the Allegheny Mayor's office:

Disorderly conduct, 85; drunkenness, 74; vagrancy, 15; ordinance cases, 32; larceny, 3; desertion, 3; assault and battery, 3; selling liquor on Sunday, 2; surety of the peace, 2; total, 219. Of the parties, against whom these various informations were made, 125 paid fines, 49 went to jail, and 45 were held for trial.

Not a Failure.—We are assured that the electric arrangement for lighting the fiery cross on St. Pauls Cathedral is not a failure, as we have announced. The connection has never been made, the work being delayed until warm weather sets in, when Mr. Loughrey, who has charge of the matter, will ascend to the cross and arrange the wires. He has no doubt but the lights can be imparted to the gas jets by a current of electricity sent upward, and in a few weeks will finish the job and fully demonstrate that the whole work is a success.

Larceny of an Overcoat.—John W. Jones arrived at the watch-house about eleven o'clock last night, in charge of an officer from Justice Gleeson's office, Etna. Jones had been arrested upon a charge of larceny, preferred against him by C. W. Redlick, who accuses him of appropriating an overcoat valued at $25. The accused, after a hearing, was committed to jail for trial, but as that institution was closed when he arrived in the city, the officer lodged his prisoner in the lock-up until this morning, when he will be removed to his quarters.

Body Found.—We stated yesterday that a colored man had been drowned near Lock No. 1, on the Monongahela river, Wednesday evening. Subsequently the body was found, and proved to be that of Mr. Joseph Murray. The deceased was about twenty-four years of age, unmarried, and had been in the employ of Mr. R. H. Palmer, brick manufacturer. His sister, the only living relative, resides in Georgetown, D. C. An inquest was held on the body by Coroner Clawson, and the jury returned a verdict of accidental death.

Meeting of the Street Committee.

The Street Committee of the City Councils met last evening. The pay roll, as follows, was presented and approved:

First District	$1,041 63
Second District	1,033 87
Third District	541 82
Engineer's Office	736 43
Total	$3,353 75

The Committee decided to report to the next meeting of Councils an ordinance for the construction of a sewer on Canal street.

The Committee then adjourned.

Drop letters	4,233
Papers	22,451	1,197

Moving Day.

This eventful period has at length arrived, and the long deferred general renovation of the household will be put into execution. Housekeepers will find themselves at a loss perhaps where to procure certain features in household furnishments. On one point we propose to enlighten them, and that is in the matter of upholstery. Bedding, mattrasses, and the general refurnishing of the chamber will perhaps be called for, and we would refer our readers to the establishment of Messrs. Roberts, Roenigk & Co., at No. 61 Smithfield street, where everything in this line is always kept in large supply, in standard quality and at prices that cannot fail to please. Messrs. Roberts & Roenigk personally supervise the mechanical department, and all goods they manufacture or deal in, are of a superior description. Mr. Gill devotes his time and attention to customers exclusively, and will be found at all times in the sales room, prompt and courteous to patrons. This house deals in every speciality peculiar to the upholstery business, has on hand an excellent assortment, and sells at very low rates.

The Disorderly House Ordinance.

For the benefit of all interested, we call attention to the (shall we say startling?) provisions of "an ordinance to suppress disorderly houses, houses of ill-fame, and disorderly assemblages," passed by Councils on Monday last, and now in force. It enacts that all houses of ill-fame, all houses frequented by persons for lewd and unchaste purposes, and all houses where intoxicating liquors are sold without license, or contrary to the laws of the Commonwealth, (including, therefore, selling on Sunday and between twelve o'clock midnight and six o'clock A. M.,) "shall be deemed and held to be disorderly houses." The police are also empowered to arrest not only the keepers of such houses, but all persons found therein, and if adjudged guilty of maintaining such houses, "or of visiting the same for improper purposes," (their presence, we presume, to be taken as prima facie evidence of "improper purpose,") the Mayor is required to impose a fine of not less than five nor more than one hundred dollars.

This ordinance vests the Mayor with ample power to weed out infamous dens existing in the city, and its rigid enforcement cannot fail of being productive of much good in this community.

Shocking Accident—Four Persons Badly Burned.

Yesterday morning another carbon oil horror was added to the already fearful list. The scene of the terrible accident to which we refer was at the residence of a Mr. Wells, on Denny street, in South Wheeling. From one of the physicians (Dr. Hazlett) called in after its occurrence, we obtained the following particulars: At the time indicated the wife of Mr. Wells, a son about six years old and Mrs. Steward Henderson were in one of the rooms of the house. Near a table on which was a can partly filled with carbon oil, stood a cooking stove. While the ladies were engaged about their duties, the boy was playing around the room, and in some way jostled the table, throwing the can upon the stove. The oil coming in contact with the hot iron instantly ignited, and an explosion immediately followed. So violent was the concussion produced by it that the door of the room was very considerably shattered. The unfortunate persons were covered with the burning oil, and their agonizing skrieks quickly brought a number of neighbors to their assistance—among others another Mrs. Wells, who occupied a part of the same building, and sister-in-law of the first. In her efforts to remove the burning clothes from the victims of this dire calamity, she was herself severely burned. Other parties sustained more or less injury in attempting to subdue the flames. The persons first named are shockingly burned, chiefly about the head and chest. The boy and Mrs. Henderson appeared to be the greatest sufferers. Mrs. Wells, however, is in a critical condition, and the result in the three cases is extremely problematical. They were living at five o'clock last evening.

TEACHERS' INSTITUTE.

Fourth Day's Proceedings.

MORNING SESSION.

The Institute opened with prayer at ten o'clock by Prof. Jones, of Erie.

Prof. Ricoff, of Cleveland, then delivered an address, showing the importance of teaching pupils to associate words with ideas. When reading from books they should be taught to understand the meaning of the words they read, and to avoid, as much as possible the mere repetition or pronunication of words.

Prof. Northrop continued his lecture on "Eyes and No Eyes," taking familiar articles in illustrating his subject.

Upon the expiration of the time allotted to the Professor, a recess was announced.

When the Institute was called to order, a song was sung by Misses Bell Sample and McCormick, Miss A. E. Wilcox performing the accompaniment.

Mrs. M. Howe Smith was next introduced, and delivered a lecture on the "General Laws of the Winds." The cause or origin of winds, the manner in which the direction or motion is given, and the production of rains were treated of, and by illustrations clearly and practically explained.

At the conclusion of Mrs. Smith's address the Institute adjourned to two o'clock P. M.

AFTERNOON SESSION.

Institute re-assembled at two o'clock and was opened with a song by the Philharmonic Society.

Professor Corydon was the first speaker. He delivered a brief address on the subject of Penmanship, in which he advocated a compromise between the round and angular styles of writing.

The Philharmonic Society followed with another vocal selection, after which Rev. Wm. Evans entertained the audience with elocutionary exercises for a short time, reading "Horatius," "The New Comer," and the "Sleeping Sentinal."

Mrs. Mary Howe Smith was next introduced and delivered a lecture on "Our Country, its physical conformations and character, and the effects upon our people."

The lecture was an exceedingly able and interesting one, and it received enthusiastic applause at intervals throughout and at its close.

Prof. Shoemaker concluded the exercises of the afternoon session with a few remarks on vocal culture, after which the Institute adjourned till seven o'clock.

EVENING SESSION.

The evening session was opened with music from the Philharmonic Society.

Rev. J. B. Clark, D. D., was then introduced and delivered an able lecture on the diffusion of knowledge, and its effects upon the stability of a nation. He argued that where ignorance exists, power has no place. One precludes the possibility of the other. But mere secular information will not be sufficient to ensure strength to a nation. The moral culture of the people is essential, and in fact, the one without the other may as easily be made an agent of evil as of good. The speaker continued at some length to argue his theme, and was listened to with close attention.

The Allegheny Quartette Club now favored the Institute with a song, entitled "Merrily chimes the bells by night."

Rev. Wm. W. Evans followed, reciting "Sheridan's Ride," "Queen Miab," and "Seven ages of man."

Prof. B. G. Northrop was next introduced and spoke of scenes of home life, in which he dwelt on the importance of training the affections and teaching children to love their homes. To this end they should be treated with consideration, and everything be made as bright as possible. Nothing better fits for life than a cheerful spirit, and we may all give an encouragement to those around us by exercising it. It is the the secret of our mental life and growth, and tends greatly to our physical and spiritual growth. At the conclusion of the address, the Philharmonic Society sang "Good Night" with fine effect.

Prof. Shoemaker read the "Raven" and other selections, after which the Institute adjourned to meet this morning at nine o'clock.

Burial of a Prominent Mason.

Mr. Isaac Whittier whose death we have announced, was laid in his final resting place yesterday. A large number of Knights Templar in full costume, bearing the banner of the cross, and a full delegation of Masons were in attendance, together with a large number of citizens joined the procession. For over twenty years he has been an active, zealous, prominent Mason, devotedly attached to the Order, and exemplyfying it in his outward life. In Lodge, Chapter, Council, Consistory, Commandery, he was always at his post, and often aiding, advising and working for others. He has filled nearly all the offices, and always with intelligence and fidelity. His affections were deeply enlisted, and his work was no mere ceremony, but the symbolic building of the temple of a beautiful life. When told that he must die, and asked if he was prepared, he replied, with emphasis, "Yes, and I have been for forty years!" His mind retained its vigor to the last, and without a sigh or struggle he calmly went to sleep.

On Wednesday evening a meeting of St. John's Lodge, No. 219, was called to make arrangements to attend the funeral of Bro. Whittier. The large attendance of Masons, and the deep feeling manifested showed the great bereavment felt by all the Fraternity. Appropriate and touching tributes were paid to the virtues of the deceased by Brothers Dr. Jas. King, Thos. Davage, Jas. H. Hopkins, John H. Bailey, John M'Claran, and Jos. Eichbaum.

Amusements.

OPERA HOUSE.—The weather last evening, as most people are aware, was abominable. This fact, together with the other, that yesterday was "moving day," operated against a large audience at the Opera House. Still the house held a fair number, and those who did overcome all obstacles and attend were more than repaid. Miss Charlotte Thompson, than whom there are few more delightful actresses, played "Fanchon, the Cricket," and played it remarkably well. The support rendered her by the stock company was excellent. This evening she takes a benefit and should have a splendid house. See amusement column for bill.

PITTSBURGH THEATRE.—The audiences at the Theatre have been large all the while, and notwithstanding the bad weather, last evening was no exception. The entertainment was a capital one. The company which Manager Williams has now on his boards is a most excellent one, and the attractions nightly offerred are great.

AMERICAN THEATRE.—Owing to Mr. Smythe's excellent management, the entertainments at the American are always of the most pleasing character. That they are appreciated is fully shown by the large audiences which assemble there every evening. The bill this evening is an admirable one, and all should attend.

THE COURTS

Court of Quarter Sessions—Judge Stowe.

THURSDAY, April 1.—The trial of the Bell arson case was concluded, Mr. Haines making the closing speech on the part of the Commonwealth, after which the charge to the jury was delivered by Judge Stowe. A verdict had not been rendered at the hour of adjournment.

PLEAD GUILTY.

James Jones plead guilty to the larceny of an album from Pittock's book store, on Fifth avenue, and was sentenced to undergo an imprisonment of thirty days in the county jail.

DISCHARGED.

Thomas Evans was brought into Court and discharged frem custody, the commitment being defective, from the fact that it did not contain the name of the prosecutor.

VERDICT OF NOT GUILTY.

William B. Fehl was arraigned on an indictment for burglariously entering the bar room of Mr. Thornley, at the St. Nicholas Hotel, on the 4th of January last. It was proved for the defence that Fehl went into the bar room for the purpose of seeing whether there was any one in, as he heard a noise there. The jury found a verdict of not guilty.

FELONIOUS ASSAULT AND BATTERY.

John Boyle was arraigned on an indictment for felonious assault and battery, John McDonald prosecutor. The prosecutor alleged that on the night of the fifth of December last, he was leaving a ball at the Continental Hotel, when he was attacked by the defendant and two others and stabbed, several severe wounds being inflicted on the head and neck. The jury found a verdict of guilty. Sentence deferred.

HIGHWAY ROBBERY.

James Allen was arraigned on an indictment for the robbery of Jas. S. Lee. The offense was alleged to have been committed on Penn street, in the Ninth ward, on the evening of the 8th of March last, when Mr. Lee testified that he was garroted and robbed of his gold watch and chain and a sum of money. James Dunn, last week, plead guilty to being connected with the robbery. On trial.

District Court.—Judge Kirkpatrick.

THURSDAY, April 1.—The case of Sam'l Rowan et ux. vs. the Cleveland and Pittsburgh Railroad Company, occupied the attention of the Court until the hour of adjournment. The jury have not yet agreed upon a verdict.

The trial list for to-day is the same as published yesterday.

MORTGAGES.

Same day eleven mortgages were filed of record.

Cash Insurance Company.

This institution has removed its office to more eligible and spacious apartments on the second floor of "Phelan's building," No. 22 Fifth avenue. This company is one of the best and safest local underwriting associations. Its management, all will agree, could not be in better hands: the President, a wealthy retired merchant of the highest integrity, known in business circles many years for his probity, prudence and sound judgment; its Vice President, a wealthy retired manufacturer, surpassed by no citizen in the regards of this community; its Directors, a body of gentlemen severally well known and greatly esteemed for their success in business, and their high place in the confidence of the trading and busy classes. Any one who will scrutinize the names of these officers and directors, as given in the Company's card, published elsewhere in this paper, must say, with us, that this Cash Insurance Company is entitled to public confidence; that the best possible provision has been made, as well in its Secretary and General Agent, as in its President, Vice President and Directory, for its good management and for an honorable and prosperous future history.

Caught at Last.

About fifteen months since Thomas Caroon, then a tavern keeper at Saw Mill Run, made information before Alderman McMasters against Con. Connell, a well known character, for aggravated assault and battery and surety of the peace. The prosecutor alleged that the defendant came into his saloon, and, without provocation, attacked and beat him in a terrible manner, after which he returned, swearing vengeance upon his victim if informed upon for his conduct. Connell succeeded in eluding the vigilance of the police until yesterday, when officer James Blondin, of Alderman McMasters' office, learning of his whereabouts, in company with other officers went to the steamer "Fort Benton," lying at the Monongahela wharf, and after a severe struggle, succeeded in arresting Connell, who had engaged as deck hand for a trip to the Missouri river on the steamboat. In making the arrest, Mr. Blondin was roughly handled, which caused him to make another information before the Alderman against Connell for assault and battery. The prisoner was committed to jail for trial.

The Pipe and Tank Bill.

A meeting of the Board of Managers of the Petroleum Producers' Association was held in Library Hall, Oil City, yesterday. The meeting was called to order by Vice President William L. Lay at eleven o'clock. The usual routine of business was transacted, after which the reports of committees which visited Harrisburg to prevent, if possible, the passage of the Western Oil Pipe bill, and to urge the passage of a Free Pipe law, were read and accepted. The report of a committee on the cementing or plugging of abandoned wells was then read, and, on motion, adopted and the committee continued.

The names of eighty-seven candidates for membership were reported by the managers, and on motion they were elected. After the transaction of some further business the meeting adjourned until half past one. At the adjourned meeting, the committee which had been appointed at the previous monthly meeting, to report a candidate for the ofice of Associate Secretary, gave an unanimous expression in favor of Hon. C. V. Culver. Shortly afterward the meeting adjourned, and the regular Quartely meeting of the Association was called to order. A committee which had been appointed to draft resolutions to express the sense of the oil producers in regard to the passage of the bill incorporating the Western Oil and Pipe Company by the Legislature, and the refusal by it to pass a general bill, reported the resolutions which appear elsewhere.

The resolutions were received with applause, and on motion they were adopted unanimously and the Committee discharged. The following amendment to the Constitution was reported from a committee which had been appointed for this purpose at the meeting of the Board of Managers in the morning, as article 5th:

SEC. 1. The affairs of the Association shall be under the general direction of a Board of Managers, whose term of office shall expire with each annual meeting, and who shall be chosen as follows: At each annual meeting the Association shall choose twenty of its members as managers at large. Any twenty members of the Association may, on the day preceding any regular meeting of the Board of Managers, elect one of their number as a manager to represent them and their district in said Board.

The amendment was adopted, but subsequently it was reconsidered and amended, so as to be operative on and after the next regular meeting.

Hon. C. V. Culver then addressed the meeting in an able manner and at considerable length, on the strength of the oil producers, and showed conclusively that if they chose to exert it, they need no longer be opposed with burdensome monopolies. Mr. C.'s remarks created a deep impression, and were received with hearty expressions of applause.

The subject of a Producers' Pipe Transportation Company was then taken up and discussed, and a committee of fifteen members was appointed to report a plan for obtaining the right of way, &c., over all the farms in the oil region.

The resignation of the President was then read and accepted. Shortly afterward the meeting adjourned.

The meeting was highly enthusiastic, and the feeling observable among the producers gave evidence that they are awake at last and are determined to protect their interests.

Manager Hess.

A name that is revered in this community, where that gentleman so long and so successfully catered to the pleasure and enjoyment of the amusement-loving portion of the community, has left the Chicago Opera House to make a grand sensational strike in the staid city of "Brotherly Love." Here is a notice given him and his great troupe by the Philadelphia Bulletin, which is au fait in amusement matters:

THE FIELD OF THE CLOTH OF GOLD.—It is simply necessary to announce that the "Field of the Cloth of Gold" will be performed at the New Chesnut all this week, to insure overwhelming audiences each evening. The success of this piece is unprecedented, but it is well deserved, for it is the greatest and best extravaganza ever produced in the United States, New features, local hits, &c., are added every night, and one may see the piece half a dozen times and each time be delighted with something fresh. Manager Hess exactly understands the amusement appetite of the public, and they flock to him by thousands to get it appeased. Laughter reigns supreme at the New Chesnut.

Meeting of the Police Committee.

Last evening the Police Committee convened, when the monthly pay roll of the police, amounting to $7,755 60, was presented and approved. The report of the business at the Mayor's office during the month of March, was also presented, showing the number of cases disposed of to be six hundred and ninety-six, as follows: Drunkenness, two hundred and fifty-eight; Disorderly Conduct, two hundred and sixty-one, Vagrancy, forty-nine; Discharged, fifty-five; Ordinance Cases, twenty-six; Court Informations, forty-seven.

During the month the receipts were: from—

Fines	$1,501 35
Jail Receipts	144 00
Night Police	261 65
Dramatic License	130 00
Total	$2,037 00

—against $572 35 for the corresponding month of 1868. The receipts for February, 1869, were $1,483 95—against $978 80, in February, 1868. Total increase for the two months of 1869, $1,968 80.

A FOSSIL.—The remains of the tusk or horn of a fossil creature was found near Davenport, Iowa, the other day. About four feet and a half of horn was found, and about as much more is missing. It was found eighteen feet below the surface of the earth, and lay embedded between a strata of blue and yellow clay. The relic is not ivory—it is horn. When scraped it has the darp appearance of ox horn, and emits the odor of burnt horn when fire is applied to it. The pieces are hollow, though portions are filled with what must have been marrow—now in a semi-petrified state. Hopes are entertained of finding a companion to it when the other side of the head is reached.
